ELOQUENT APPEAL!

State Central Committee

TO THE PENNSYLVANIA REPUBLICANS.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HEADQUARTERS PENNA. REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, No. 1105 Chestnut St., Phila., Sept. 29, 1870.

The Republican State Central Committee presents the people of Pennsylvania with pride and pleasure its political record since the Committee last addressed them.

The Republican party is the party of progress, political advancement and the dissemination of knowledge among men. The Democratic party is the party of obstruction and resistance to the onward march of our advancing civilization. The former emblazons on its banners the motto "the greatest good to the greatest number," embracing in its philanthropy the welfare of our fellow men. The latter would reserve its beneficence to a single race. The first seeks to advance and promote the wealth, happiness and comforts of American citizens in preference to others. The second aims to promote the interests of foreigners in preference to those of our own people. With such a broad difference of political faith, the action of the two parties is in accordance therewith.

The Democratic party, wedded to slavery and perpetuating its power through that institution, had well nigh destroyed the integrity of the Union. To the Republican party was left the task of restoring it through a series of years. Since the Democratic rebellion was crushed, the Republican party has been industriously endeavoring to heal the wounds that Democracy has made, and by Congressional action last session the last of the States that remained out of the Union were admitted into its paternal fold. We have now an undivided Union, with every State in the full enjoyment of its political privileges as a member thereof, notwithstanding the Democratic resistance to such a happy consummation.

The Emancipation Proclamation and the Fourteenth amendment gave an entire race privileges as American citizens which they had not theretofore possessed, upon the Jeffersonian principle of the equality of man. But the southern Democracy sought to nullify their influence, even to the extent of its own political power. This obstructive action of the Democracy necessitated the Fifteenth amendment, conferring the right to vote on all American citizens without regard to race, color or previous condition of servitude. But the southern Democracy endeavored to destroy the beneficent provisions of that amendment by fraud and violence. Hence came the necessity of the act to enforce the provisions of the Fifteenth amendment. Both to the amendment and the act to enforce it the Democratic party gave its undisguised and unqualified opposition, and still in an open and unhesitating manner denounces that amendment, made under constitutional forms, as unconstitutional and of no effect.

This disorganizing policy it pursues throughout the Union with a view to unite the old pro-slavery feeling of the south with the stand-still policy of the northern democracy, in the vain hope that such an unhallowed coalition may result in once more gaining the reins of national political power. In this hope it will be surely disappointed, for no friend of equal rights and equality before the law, and no voter of that race which has been enfranchised by the liberal and enlightened acts of the Republican party, can ever give its support to a party whose political policy is so retrogressive as is that of the Democratic party.

Ever anxious to relieve the people from the burdens of an oppressive taxation, resulting from our efforts necessary to crush out a Democratic rebellion, the Republican party has sought to adjust the internal revenue laws so as to afford immediate relief to all classes of the people. It has abolished all the special taxes, that were so irritating and annoying, and now the merchant and manufacturer, the lawyer, the doctor, the farmer, and men in most occupations, can pursue their avocations without receiving visits from the tax gatherer. There now remains a tax on a few articles, such as liquors, tobacco, stamps, bank dividends, and one or two other things, which belong to the class of luxuries rather than of necessities.

The delicate question of so adjusting the duties on imports as to afford the best possible protection to our American manufacturers and their laborers against the low wages and cheap capital of Europe, was most carefully considered by the Republican majority in Congress, and in spite of the hostility of the Democracy an act was passed carefully discriminating between those articles which we could not manufacture or produce and those which we could, and affording adequate protection to the latter and admitting the former at low rates or free of duty. In the controversy over this act, the Democratic party was always in unison with the foreign free traders and gave its influence to the interests of foreign manufacturers and importers and against the American laborer.

By the reduction of the internal revenue and some taxes and duty on imports, the Republican party has relieved the people of burdens estimated at eighty millions of dollars per annum.

In addition to this, it has reduced the army roll to a considerable extent, and the expenses of the army and navy several millions per annum.

The public debt has been its especial care. By a careful husbanding of the resources of the people, by exacting a rigid accountability from all persons employed in the revenue department, by a closer collection of the tax on whisky and tobacco, by a prosecution of defaulters and violators of the revenue laws, it has managed to secure to the Treasury millions of money which, under a profligate Democratic administration, were allowed to go into the hands of dishonest office holders. By this economy and vigilance the revenues have been greatly augmented and the results may be seen in the extinction of one hundred and sixty millions of the public debt since the present administration came into power. This reduction may be still further increased when a prosperous state of the money market, now disturbed by European wars, may enable the Secretary of the Treasury to fund the public debt at a lower rate of interest, as is provided for by a law of the last session.

The development of the unsettled public domain, by a judicious and prudent policy of land grants to railroads, has resulted in the binding together of the two extremes of the Republic, opened the way for settlers to penetrate to the mines, and developed the vast mineral resources of the nation that hitherto were inaccessible and valueless; saved many millions annually in the cost of army transportation and ended the costly Indian wars wherever the "iron horse" penetrated. As soon as such of these great avenues of commerce as are necessary to the full present development of the country to settlers shall have been completed, a still closer husbanding of the lands for actual settlers will obtain, and every head of a family in the nation will be enabled to get a homestead free of expense, save office fees, within reach of a market for the products of his industry along these railroads.

By an act of the last session of Congress every soldier who served ninety days in the Union army during the late rebellion, and was honorably discharged, can now have his one hundred and sixty acres under the homestead law—a privilege denied to others, and which will afford him opportunity of a comfortable home along these great highways of the nation.

In prosecuting to a successful termination these great and beneficial public measures, the Republican party, ever attached to the interests of the people, was always met by the hostility and opposition of the Democratic party, which seems to have no sympathy with the interests of the masses, but to be ruled by the wishes of foreign manufacturers and importers and the great commercial cities. Holding it as a cardinal principle of Republican faith, that a government should prefer the welfare of its own people to that of others, the Republican party, both in its State and National legislation, has kept that end constantly in view and labored faithfully to promote it, and despite of the clamor of the free trade Democracy, who wish to flood the country with cheap goods until their foreign friends can obtain the American market by destroying American manufactures, with a view to then advance prices to suit themselves, as they have heretofore done, the Republican party will add to its unsurpassed and brilliant record an example of successful administration such as the nation has not heretofore seen. It commends itself to the unbiased judgment of all lovers of their country, and claims that it is entitled to the support of every true American citizen.

While the National Administration has been thus successful in administering the political and financial affairs of the general Government, the administration of our State affairs has not been less satisfactory. Large amounts of outstanding dues have been collected and the taxes have been reduced, and there has been paid of the public debt of the State eight and a quarter million of dollars since the termination of the war. With careful management under Republican rule the day is not far distant when the whole public debt of the State will be extinguished and the people relieved from all taxation, excepting so much as may be necessary for the ordinary administration of State affairs.

With such records the Committee feels that it may be proud, and although there may be no exciting State or National questions prominently before the people, yet with the well known hostility of the Democracy to American principles and policy of Republicanism, it urges every Republican to earnest action at the coming election.

Every member gained by the Democracy in our State or National Legislature will be an encouragement to that party to pursue their disastrous measures, and will discourage and dishearten Republicans, while every member gained by the Republicans will strengthen their hands in doing good for the people.

Let all disturbances, then, wherever they may be in our ranks, be healed. Let every candidate consider himself a representative, having care of the party interest rather than his own, and let private wishes and personal aspirations give way to the public good. By divisions we occasion bitterness of feeling that will not soon be allayed. We defeat our candidates and elect those who are hostile, as we believe, to the best interests of the country.

Let personal feelings everywhere be sacrificed on the altar of our country's welfare. Let us be united, for in union there is strength, and we shall show results at the coming election that will gratify every one who has at heart the welfare of the State and Nation, and strengthen the Republican party which has thus far been so great a success.

Pennsylvania must maintain her Republican strength in Congress, or her dearest interests will be ruthlessly sacrificed. The next Legislature is charged with the duty of apportioning the State for Legislative and Congressional purposes, giving it an importance which only occurs once in seventy years, and the loss of Pennsylvania now will in all probability occasion the loss of her electoral vote to the Republican candidate for President in 1872, and a Democratic Legislature, if elected, will so apportion the State as to prevent the Republican party from regaining positions they have held so triumphantly for the last six years.

Let only those who were loyal and true during the rebellion be trusted now, and the world will see that a free republic cannot die.

Let no feeling of confidence or apathy as to the result keep a Republican voter from attendance at the polls at an early hour upon election day, and a victory as glorious and as complete as greeted you last October will again crown your efforts.

[Signed.] JOHN COVODE,
Chairman.

Minister Washburne and the Germans.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, September 28.—The Executive Committee of the Patriotic German Aid Societies of the State of Illinois, having under consideration at their last meeting a protest against the acts of Minister Washburne at Paris, sent to them by the Aurora Aid Society, appointed a committee to draft resolves in regard to the matter. The committee have made a report, which is published to-day, reflecting severely on Mr. Washburne's action with regard to the French Republic and the German residents of France. The character of the report is indicated in the closing paragraph. It says: "As to the third resolution in the Aurora letter, which calls for the removal of Mr. Washburne from his post, we cannot agree with the Aurora Society. Mr. Washburne, we think, means well. His sudden elevation to the post of Ambassador at Paris has opened a horizon to him which stretches far beyond the limits of the Galena Congressional District, and which as yet he has not been entirely able to scan and comprehend. Judging from his late career at the late Imperial Court, and from his dancing exercises at Compiegne, we must think that he has learned enough of the French language to understand that great word well known in France from the time of the French convention, 'Je Vous Rappelle a la Pudeur,' and that in the future he will act accordingly. We never doubted Mr. Washburne's honesty and integrity. He may live to learn and hereafter be a worthy representative of the great republic which sent him. While we, therefore, under instructions, shall forward the Aurora letter to the Central Committee of New York, endorsing the two first resolutions, we cannot endorse the third."

The Largest Bar of Gold.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DENVER, COL., Sept. 28.—The First National Bank of Denver, Colorado, has to-day on exhibition the largest bar of gold ever seen at one time in the world. It measures twelve and a half inches in length, six and a half inches in width and four and a quarter inches in thickness. Value, fifty thousand dollars. It will be exhibited at the Colorado fair, afterwards exhibited at St. Louis and then sent to the Fourth National Bank of New York.

SURRENDER OF STRASBURG, WITH THE HONORS OF WAR.

DARMSTADT, September 28.—A telegram has been received from Ludwigshafen announcing that Strasburg capitulated on Monday at five o'clock in the afternoon.

CARLSRUHE, September 28.—Strasburg was surrendered at five o'clock last evening to General Werther.

King William's dispatch to Queen Augusta announcing the capitulation of Strasburg at eleven o'clock last evening was made public here at noon. Other dispatches say the city surrendered at five o'clock.

Another dispatch from Carlsruhe says: The fall of Strasburg has been announced here by a dispatch from the besieging corps surrounding that city, and has created the greatest excitement.

A triumphal procession will be organized. The city is becoming animated. The accounts state that the walls of Strasburg had great breaches battered through them, and that the Prussians, before storming, entered into a parley which terminated with the surrender of the garrison under Gen. Ulrich with the honors of war.

RUMORED CAPTURE OF MONTMEDY.

A dispatch from Namur, Belgium, says: News has been received in this city simultaneously with a similar announcement at Luxembourg, reporting that the Prussians have captured Montmedy after a brief resistance.

ARMISTICE AT MEZIERES.

An armistice of forty-eight hours was concluded at Mezieres on Monday, for the removal of the dead.

DISTRIBUTION OF HONORS.

At the grand parade of the Prussians in the court yard at Versailles yesterday the Crown Prince was standing under the statue of Louis XIV. distributing honors to soldiers who had distinguished themselves for their gallantry.

DUKE OF WURTEMBURG WOUNDED.

The Duke of Wurtemburg was wounded in the engagement at the outposts of St. Cloud.

ACTIVITY OF THE RUSSIANS.

BERLIN, September 28.—Dispatches from St. Petersburg report the armament of troops and the movement of military stores southward assuming a serious phase, and appearances denote that the Government is rapidly preparing for a grand movement in a direction which can only be conjectured. Russia has given orders to prepare ammunition wagons for immediate use. Fourteen trains are dispatched daily over the railway from Moscow to Kursk, on the Seine, two hundred and ninety miles southwest of Moscow. Immense trains of stores are being sent south daily upon various routes.

THE UNITED STATES CENSURED.

The North German Gazette, semi-official organ of the Prussian Government, this morning contains a warm article censuring the United States Government for its prompt action in recognizing the new French Republic.

THIERS' IDEA RIDICULED.

BERLIN, Sept. 28.—The idea broached by Thiers at Vienna, that the Prussian Government is insincere in demanding Alsace and Lorraine from France, is ridiculed on all hands.

THE SURRENDER OF STRASBURG.

MUNDELSHEIM, Sept. 28.—The surrender of Strasburg was signed at two this morning by Col. Leczerinski. By this surrender 451 officers and 17,000 men laid down their arms. At eight o'clock the place will be occupied by the besiegers.

[Cable to the N. Y. Herald.]

ALSACE AND LORRAINE INCORPORATED IN THE GERMAN CONFEDERATION.

BERLIN, September 28.—It has been decided to place Alsace and Lorraine as German Federal provinces under the administration of Federal authorities and they will be represented in the German Parliament by commission. At present the inhabitants will not be subjected to military burthens.

A closer union of Bavaria with North Germany has been concluded by the negotiations of Del Bruck.

The large force released by the capitulation of Strasburg will be employed in clearing upper Alsace of Franc Tireurs.

It is semi-officially stated in the Provincial Correspondence that all Germany will heartily welcome Strasburg, now won back to her.

LIVELY TIMES AT METZ—BAZAINE EVER ACTIVE

Joung Lux Artres, near Metz, in camp, September 24.—Since the fearful battle of the 28th of August, the Prussian army has been hard at work. The activity and determined bravery of the French soldiers has kept the besieging forces constantly employed. Vigilance is proved to be necessary. Repeated sorties and resolute attempts have been made by Bazaine to break the bonds in which he is held. Notwithstanding the attempts to treat for capitulation, there has never been a moment when the beleaguered General was not prepared to avail himself of any symptoms of neglect or weakness on the part of the enemy.

At noon on the 23d, under cover of the guns of the fort, the French sallied forth in considerable strength against the Prussian right. A vigorous attack and defence were made, the Prussians taking advantage of the woods. The battle raged from midday until seven o'clock, when the Germans, meeting support, assumed the offensive and drove the enemy within their lines.

On the 24th a still more desperate attack was attempted. The French advanced in large bodies of infantry, supported by artillery and cavalry, and covered by the cannons of the fort, which opened the fire. The French attacked vigorously the left of the Prussian line a little east of the Thionville road. Regiment after regiment fell in a solid line on the defences of the Prussians, who stood like iron. Once the French gained a temporary advantage, carrying an outwork of the Prussian lines and turning the flank of another position, but were shortly driven back, gallantly contesting every foot of the ground. At length they were again forced to retire under the forts. The thrilling display of stubborn determination on both sides was never excelled. Details of the result are yet unknown.

METZ SUPPLIED WITH PROVISIONS—A CLEVER ACCOMPLISHMENT.

A correspondent of the Tribune telegraphs from Metz, 28th: Since the week preceding Sunday a large amount of provisions accumulated at the city of Luxembourg and at Bittemburg, ostensibly for transportation to Saarbruck for the German armies. On the night of the 24th the displaced rails between Luxemburg and Thionville were replaced and the accumulated provisions were sent from Bittemburg into Thionville Station, where they were received by the French garrison. On Sunday morning the German troops lying south and west of Thionville obtained knowledge of the matter and made an attack on the station, endeavoring to destroy the goods or prevent their unloading by cannonading. They were unsuccessful, as the station lying west of Thionville was protected by guns of the battery at Malingrange. On Sunday the Germans re-extended their lines, which had been relaxed, and are again blockading Thionville.

FROM FRANCE.

MEETING OF THE FRENCH MINISTRY.

TOURS, Sept. 28.—The Ministry of France held a Council yesterday to decide upon further measures for the defence of the nation. The Ministers were unanimous for the extreme policy of better and more determined fighting, and unitedly resolved to offer resistance to the very last against the invaders.

The country people from the surrounding districts and from Orleans are pouring into the towns. Many of them are armed, and they immediately enroll themselves in the battalions.

BAZAINE WELL PROVIDED FOR A SIEGE.

It is learned from M. Favre, the returned Commissioner, that Bazaine's magazines are provided with food sufficient for several week's consumption, but that the ravages of malarious fevers and choleric complaints kills hundreds of his soldiers daily and incapacitates as many more from active service.

[Special to the N. Y. Sun.]

THE STATE OF AFFAIRS IN SOUTHERN FRANCE—FORMATION OF ARMIES—GEN. CLUSERET—THE PEOPLE ACTIVELY MOVING—RUMORS ABOUT BAZAINE.

LYONS, Sept. 21—VIA LONDON, Sept. 28.—It was not without difficulty that I reached Lyons. I left Paris Saturday morning, and was obliged to pass by Rouen, and arrived here only Monday night. Everywhere the roads were covered with soldiers and recruits for the army De La Loire, which is in the way of formation at Tours, and another of Du Rhone, under command of Gen. Cluseret, which is about to be organized. From Marseilles to Lyons these two armies will harrass the Prussians during the siege. Here is certainly the last hope of France. The people are more energetic and resolute than in other parts of France. They have assumed the direction of their own affairs.

The Municipal Council yesterday unanimously elected Gen. Cluseret commander-in-chief of the volunteer army of the Rhone. He has not yet accepted, but will advise the people this afternoon from the Hotel de Ville, and will require them to raise by taxation fifty million francs for the organization of the army. If the money is granted he will accept the command.

There is a rumor of Bazaine having cut his way to Sedan, but we have received by a balloon about five hundred letters from Bazaine's soldiers, saying they will wait for fair weather before moving. I believe more will happen than the escape of Bazaine. I think the Prussians are now in a very bad condition. There are 600,000 persons under arms in Paris. Everywhere the people are anxious to fight. Two new armies are in formation on the flank of the enemy, and there is a determination on the part of the people to treat as traitors all who dare speak of compromising with Prussia.

HASTY RETREAT OF THE PRUSSIANS.

LYONS, September 22, via London 28.—The Prussians have retreated from before Mulhausen and generally from Haut Rhine. They left in so great a hurry that they abandoned their siege requisitions.

PRUSSIAN CHANGE OF PLANS.

TOURS, September 28.—A dispatch announces that the Prussians have not entered Orleans. They came near the city, halted and then commenced moving back toward Paris. A civilian whom they captured and subsequently released says Prince Albert received a dispatch which suddenly seemed to change his plans.

The Prussians have entirely evacuated Fontainbleau. They imposed no tax on the citizens, but made heavy requisitions for provisions and forage.

A dispatch from Epinal, 27th, says the Prussians attacked Raon yesterday, but were repulsed.

AFFAIRS IN PARIS—SEVERE MEASURES WITH COWARDS.

TOURS, Sept. 28.—A letter, dated Paris 28th, says: The population is animated by one sentiment, defense of the Capital. The Mobile and National Guards behave with great calmness and determination. A Zouave who fled in the recent fight without firing a shot and afterwards attempted to kill the officer who arrested him, has been shot by order of a court martial. Severe measures have been taken with others who behaved badly. The cowards are mostly recruits who joined the fragments of a Zouave regiment which escaped from Sedan.

The officers of the Bank of France propose to destroy the notes on hand in case there is danger of their falling into the hands of the enemy. Propositions have been made to light the city with petroleum, if it become necessary to cut off all gas.

Rochefort has remarkable influence over the workingmen, who are prepared to defend Paris to the last. The city had been orderly and quiet up to the 24th. Prussian reports of riots are false. Gunboats guard the Seine effectually on both sides of the city. Large numbers of men who have not arms have been detailed as firemen in case of need. The strictest measures have been taken to ensure order. The police force is large, and can readily be supported by the military. There is no possibility of a lack of water.

Great numbers of women, who have organized to take care of the wounded, marched through the streets to-day, carrying banners, and were enthusiastically applauded.

The Bourse is no longer frequented and scarcely any operations take place.

A Protestant pastor, Paschard, in the name of the League of Peace, has sent a telegram to the Queen of Prussia, as President of the Society of Aid to the Wounded at Berlin. An answer came in the name of the Queen, expressing ardent hope for peace.

Gambetta, Garnier Pages and Arago have been added to the Committee of Defence.

Proper measures have been taken to feed the poor.

FUGITIVE FRENCH.

The citizens of Mezieres and Charleville are fugitives. Many of them have been welcomed by Belgium. The cause of the hegira is the threatened bombardment of those towns.

FROM LONDON.

RUSSIA IS PREPARING FOR WAR.

LONDON, September 28.—The reports thicken that Russia is preparing for war. The army at the south has been mobilized, and late movements toward the Turkish border are ominous.

MISCELLANEOUS FRENCH NEWS.

All the Democratic papers in France which were suppressed under the Empire have resumed publication.

The mob at Nantes removed the statue of Billault from the principal square of the city a few days ago, but instead of tearing it down and smashing it, they packed it up and considerately sent it to his family.

People residing in the suburbs of Paris have returned to their houses, from which they had been driven by the barbarism of the Mobiles.

The Times of this morning says: "France may be serious and heroic in refusing to cede her territory to Germany, but it is rather inconsistent with her constant avidity in seizing the territory of others."

The region around Paris for twenty kilometres from the walls is depopulated and devastated. A few courageous shopkeepers alone remain in the villages, tempted by enormous profits.

The Prussians opened fire on St. Cloud recently, killing and wounding several of the French soldiers.

The Prussians are erecting batteries at Senenes. A lively fire was opened on them from Fort D'Issey while they were at their work.

The disposition to resist the Germans to the last grows stronger in the west and south. Troops continue to pour into Tours.

Advices from Paris to Sunday, the 25th, have been received by balloon. Perfect order existed in the city.

The Prussians have marched into Orleans, and are now in full occupation of the city.

The Mobiles are deserting in crowds at Paris. Two hundred have been shot for insubordination.

THE INTERVENTION QUESTION.

LONDON, September 28.—The British Cabinet will meet on Friday to consider the question of intervention.

The troops in Poland are reported strengthened in consequence of the sympathy of the Poles with France.

THE BELGIAN FRONTIER WATCHED—MILITARY MOVEMENTS IN SOUTH FRANCE.

It is reported the Belgian military have been recalled to the frontier.

CONFIDENCE AND ENTHUSIASM IN PARIS.

Advices from Tours represent confidence and enthusiasm prevail among the people and troops in Paris, but impartial observers do not support these statements. Troops are mustering at the principal cities unoccupied by Prussians and large bodies are moving up from the south. The English journals are filled with reports of military movements in different parts of France.

The Provincial Correspondence of Berlin says: France vainly hopes to convert defeat into victory. Further carnage would therefore be vain and impious. Count Bismarck demands first of the French Government responsibility. France refusing that, must take the consequences. There is great rejoicing throughout Germany over the capture of Strasburg.

ROME AND ITALY.

The new Roman Government announces an appropriation of fifty millions to defray the expenses of the inauguration of Rome as the Capital of Italy. The enthusiasm of the inhabitants is boundless and the plebiscitum is expected to be unanimous. The Pope will probably leave Rome as soon as the result is declared. Parliament will meet on the 12th prox. to ratify the plebiscitum, and on the 18th the King will make his entrance into Rome and alight at Quirnal.

[N. Y. Times Special.]

THE FALL OF STRASBURG OF LITTLE CONSEQUENCE—IF PARIS HOLDS OUT THREE MONTHS, FRANCE IS SAFE—REMOVAL OF THE GOVERNMENT FROM TOURS.

LONDON, September 28.—The fall of Strasburg is considered to make but little difference in the question as to the power of resistance of France. Everything turns on the ability of Paris to defend itself three months. That time gained, the Prussians will never retain a fort on French territory. The whole country is rising in arms.

The statement in the London Times to-day that Thiers is empowered to offer the Russian Government the full latitude of conquest in the east, as the price of intervention in the Franco-Prussian war, is utterly unfounded. Were Russia so disposed, she requires no consent from France, who is now beaten and powerless.

Prussian occupation of Orleans renders the removal of the Government imperative. It is doubtful where they will go. To Toulouse there are objections, suggested by Prim's continued negotiations with Bismarck and the contiguity of the Spanish frontier.

FIGHTING NEAR METZ—MONTMEDY REPORTED TAKEN.

LONDON, September 28.—The Tribune correspondent telegraphs from Berlin, 27th, that on the 22d and 23d there was fighting of considerable magnitude east of Metz. The 1st corps and 13th division were engaged.

Montmedy is reported semi-officially to have been taken.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT OF PRUSSIAN CAPTURES.

LONDON, September 28.—The Tribune correspondent, writing from Berlin 26th, says the official statement of German captures thus far, not including Laon, from the second of August, on which day Saarbruck was temporarily abandoned by the Prussians, are as follows: At Saarbruck the French lost six officers and 67 privates. At Weissenburg 30 officers and 1,000 men were made prisoners; 4 mitrailleuses, 22 cannon, 51 army wagons and carriages of all kinds were captured. At Woerth the Germans made good 6,000 prisoners, besides 100 officers and took 2 eagles, 6 mitrailleuses, 35 guns, 42 wagons and carriages, 200 horses, baggage and camp tents of two divisions and 2 railroad trains with provisions. The same day the French loss at Speicherin and during the days following those battles, in the engagements at Reichshafer and Sarguemines, 250 prisoners, 4 guns and a pontoon train, a tented camp and 2 magazines containing 10,000 woolen blankets and 40,000 dots of rice, coffee and sugar, and also large quantities of rum and tobacco, the latter article alone amounting to 500,000 thalers.

The fortresses surrendered during the first half of August increased these figures as follows: At Haguenau, 2 officers, 100 privates, 60 horses, and a large supply of arms. At Lechtenburg, 3 officers, 200 privates, 7 guns, 200 muskets, 10,000 cartridges, powder, &c. At Lutzelstein, large quantities of arms and ammunition. At Nanzel, sixty guns.

The three days of fighting at Metz do not show such large captures in men and material, because the enemy was able to save both under the guns of the fortress. Still at Vionville the French lost in prisoners 36 officers, 3,000 privates; at Gravelotte, 54 officers and 3,000 men. Their killed and wounded during the three days were 25,000.

With the fortress of Vitry le Francaise 17 officers, 850 privates, and 16 guns were captured.

The engagements and battles at Nanart, Beaumont and Sedan, previous to the capitulation at the latter place, resulted in the taking of about 30,000 prisoners, besides several eagles and a large number of guns. Beaumont alone cost 7,000 prisoners, two eagles, 11 mitrailleuse, 23 guns and a tent camp; and Sedan, previous to the capitulation, 25 guns, 2 eagles and nearly 25,000 prisoners.

Sedan gave the victors one Marshal of the Empire, 39 Generals, 230 officers of staff, 2,095 line officers, 84,450 prisoners, besides 14,000 wounded. All the eagles of the regiments were taken, 70 mitrailleuses, 330 field guns, 150 fortress guns and 10,000 horses were captured.

At Laon the loss is not yet reported, but will include twenty-three guns and many muskets.

Add Toul, before reported, and there will be, 1 marshal, 39 generals, 3,359 officers, 106,950 privates, 10,280 horses, at least 56 eagles, 102 mitrailleuses, 887 field and fortress guns, over 290 wagons and trains, several portoon trains, magazines, railway trains, with an incalculable quantity of supplies in arms, ammunition, clothing, equipments, forage and provisions.

THE QUESTION OF ARMISTICE IN PARIS.

A letter from the Tribune special, dated Paris, 21st, evening, is received to-day: There have been two deputations to the Hotel De Ville to interview the Government with respect to an armistice. One consisted of about 110 officers of the National Guards, mostly from the faubourgs of St. Antoine and Rue Temple, accompanied by a large crowd. They were received by the Mayor of Paris and Jules Ferry. The latter's reply is not very clear. He certainly said no shameful peace should be concluded, but whether, as some assert, he answered the officers that no portion of French soil should be ceded, is not equally certain.

Shortly after this deputation had left another arrived from the Republican Clubs. It is stated that Ferry's answer to the last deputation was considered satisfactory.

The walls have been placarded with a proclamation from General Trochu to the armed force. He tells them some regiments behaved badly at Clamart; that their assertion that they had no cartridges was false. He recommends all citizens to arrest soldiers who are drunk, or who propagate false news, and threatens the vigorous application of the articles of war.

The faubourgs St. Antoine is full of people, and from the tone of their observations on the war it is certain that if Favre concludes an armistice involving any cession of territory there will be a rising at once.

A BRILLIANT AFFAIR BEFORE PARIS.

The affair of Le Bourget was very serious and dramatic. Sheltered behind a house the Prussians had run up a redoubt of bricks. A night attack took place at this point, and the electric light apparatus, Marshal Bazaine's system, did capital service. A battalion of Breton Mobiles and National Guard advanced upon the enemy, whose eyes were dazzled by the light, while the French forces were in the shade. The cannon from the fort fired upon the house which protected the redoubt, and the Prussians, surprised and thrown into confusion by the unexpected maneuvre, were routed and left five hundred prisoners in the hands of the Mobiles.

THE STRASBURG SURRENDER COMPELLED BY THE CITIZENS AND GARRISON.

The Tribune special at Carlsruhe telegraphs, 28th: At eight this morning the gates of Strasburg were occupied by the German troops. It was reported that the inhabitants, driven to desperation, succeeded yesterday evening in hoisting the white flag on the cathedral, but Ulrich ordered it to be removed. The surrender was afterwards compelled by the pressure of the citizens and garrison. There is great rejoicing here over the victory. Salutes are firing and bells ringing.

PRUSSIAN CANARDS.

Ferrieres has become the manufactory for Prussian canards for French departmental consumption. Of this character is the alleged shooting of two hundred Mobiles for disobedience of the officers.

THE EX-IMPERIALS—INVITED TO RESIDE IN IRELAND.

The ex-Empress has taken a fine house and grounds at Cheslehurst, Kent. Dr. Evans, who accompanied her from France, manages her affairs.

The Irish Times suggests that the ex-Emperor and family be invited to settle in Ireland.

The Tribune special telegraphs at Florence, 27th:

The Roman Junta declines to accept the restriction on the liberty of the press, or a plebiscite which assures the political power of the Pope, and threatens to resign unless the basis of the plebiscite is changed.

SPAIN.

INTERVIEW BETWEEN PRIM AND OLOZAGA.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A Madrid correspondent writes under date of September 20th: An interview has taken place between Olozaga and General Prim, in the presence of Sagasta. Afterwards Olozaga explained the true situation of affairs at Paris, Prim said: "Why did you recognize the Provisional Government without order?" Olozaga replied: "I always had great sympathy for France, with which Spain is bound by its geographical position and race, and I recognized it without instructions. What is done is done, and it is for you to approve or repudiate—to retain or remove me. Were my political life to count but this single act, I should not think it useless. My country awaits your decision. My residence is at Vigo." Subsequently Olozaga breakfasted with the Regent, urged the recognition, and triumphed over Prim.

THE VOMITO—SLAVERY.

MADRID, Sept. 28.—The vomito is spreading rapidly at Barcelona. Many people are leaving and business is at a stand still.

The Discussion continues to denounce the practical nullification of the emancipation law by Cuba. The writer quotes from Havana journals advertisements of children for sale separate from mothers to prove his assertions. In concluding he calls the attention of the Government to contracts publicly made in the Colonies for slave labor, which he affirms is practically a continuation of the system of slavery in violation of the express law of the land.

A Madrid correspondent states that De Rodas refuses to execute the orders of the Minister of the Colonies and the laws voted by the Cortes relative to the gradual abolition of slavery.

The Spanish Government refuses to accede to the proposition to name a commission to fix the indemnity payable for American losses in Cuba.

The Troubles at Salt Lake.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SALT LAKE, September 28.—Several important affidavits were taken yesterday at Provo in relation to the recent outrages by soldiers. General DeTrobriand, from Camp Douglas, assisted in the examination of witnesses. Governor Shaffer publishes a copy of a letter to General DeTrobriand in the News, blaming him for delay in investigating, and complaining that no official report has been made public by the officers in command. It finishes by saying: "If the United States soldiers cannot fulfill the high object they were sent here for, it is far better for the credit of the nation and the American armies that we be let alone to ourselves."

News from Winnipeg.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 28.—A Pembina letter of the 15th says: Matters are beginning to assume rather a serious aspect again on Red River. On the 13th inst., Isadore Grant, an influential member of the provisional government, was pointed out as an obnoxious party. He was set upon and driven into the river, where he was seen to sink. This is raising a furor against the Red River settlement which is not quieted by the boast of the Canadians that there are other men to serve the same way.

Sailing of the Hermann—A French War Vessel in Full Pursuit.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, September 28.—The steamship Scotia, of the Cunard line, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool and Queenstown, brings news that must cause much uneasiness to all those interested, directly or indirectly, in the steamer Hermann, of the Hamburg line, which put to sea at an early hour yesterday morning. At about eight o'clock P. M. the Scotia sighted the Hermann, and signaled her, the latter replying. The German steamer was at the time going at an extraordinary rate, having on a full head of steam. She was bearing outward so rapidly as to attract the attention of the passengers of the Scotia. The cause of her unusual speed was soon explained by the appearance of a French war steamer, also under full steam and in quick chase of the Hermann. The two vessels, as sighted from the Scotia, must have been within view of each other, and both seemed inclined to keep up the race. The Hermann was a long way ahead of the Frenchman and the belief on board the Scotia was that if she should be able to maintain the same distance between herself and her pursuer until night fell she could then escape in the darkness. Immediately on the arrival of the Scotia Captain Judkins reported the matter to the Custom House officers who boarded his steamer. The Hermann had a very narrow escape from encountering the French gun-boat Bouvet, which crossed the bar only five hours before she was sighted by the Scotia. The Bouvet must have passed the German vessel without being aware of her presence. Had she encountered the Hermann in the front and the other war vessel in the rear, the Bremen line would be minus a steamer to-day. Until we receive further intelligence the gravest apprehensions must be entertained for the safety of the steamer. The gunboat Bouvet is commanded by an experienced officer, Lieutenant Flinguet, and has on board a full complement of men, with large stores of ammunition and other war material. She comes from St. Pierre under special orders.

Last night she and a sister vessel of the French navy lay quietly at anchor off the Barge office. Another is cruising outside Sandy Hook, and a fourth one, which passed through Hell Gate Monday night, has put out to sea. Experienced sea-faring men blame the agents for starting the Hermann in day light, and all condemn the action of the company in announcing officially that the Bremen steamers will resume their trips, leaving New York as follows: October 4th, the Westphalia; October 11th, the Cambria; October 18th, the Hammonia.

Collision of Railway Trains—Remarkable Escape of Passengers.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—A train on the Erie Railroad that left Rochester Tuesday at 4 P. M., due here at twenty minutes past seven this morning ran into Lentz's circus train, also bound eastward and standing on the track at Turner's station. The circus train had a heated journal and remained near the station ten minutes, although it was known the Express train, entitled to the track, was coming up behind them and twenty minutes late. On hearing the approach of the Express train the engineer of the circus train, knowing collision to be inevitable, put on all possible steam and started off. The crash however came, the Express knocking two passenger cars of the circus train into splinters: not a whole seat was left. The cars were filled with circus performers and employes, male and female, all of whom escaped with only slight bruises, except Mr. Whitbeck, director of the circus, who was instantly killed. Whitbeck had but a moment before stepped to the platform. Had he remained inside the car, he would probably have shared the safety of the others. All the other cars of the circus train, except those containing horses, were demolished or thrown from the bank. The band wagon was utterly destroyed. The locomotive of the express train was driven into the cars of the circus train, and they were set on fire. The damage to the express train was slight, and no passengers were injured, though the engineer and fireman was badly hurt.

The ceremonies will be conducted according to strict naval etiquette, and the remains will be borne from the landing at Canal street to the Harlem Depot on the shoulders of sailors who formerly served under the Admiral.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, September 28.—The market is steady, with a fair business doing among the leading jobbing houses, but the general demand for goods has fallen off perceptibly, while stocks are small. Prices are firm at 14@14½c for Atlantic A brown sheetings; Appleton A 14c; Augusta 12c; Amoskeag bleached muslins 15½c; Hill's Semper Idem 16@16½c; Hope 14c; Longdale 17c; best makes printed calicoes 11½@12; Moore's delaines 20c.

Hindoos Not Gentlemen.

A Temple story, says the London Orchestra, has been in circulation during the past few days, which is too good to be lost. Our readers may know that a number of young Indian gentlemen are pursuing the study of the law within that venerable inclosure. Dr. Vaughan invited them to spend an evening at his house, and provided such delicacies as he deemed likely to be most enjoyed by them. The time fixed for the interesting party arrived, but nobody came. When half an hour had been thus spent in fruitless waiting, the Doctor's lady rang for the maid (a fresh one, not yet quite accustomed to all the ways of the house) whose duty it was to open the hall door. She entered with an air and aspect which gave token that more than the heat of the weather had been exciting her. "Have none of the gentlemen arrived?" "No, please, mum, no gentlemen has come; but a lot of impudent Christy Minstrels has been a ringing at the bell, and I have been driving 'em away, mum."

THEY say we are to have a change in the postoffice department of this city. They may change, but they will never, never be able to get the postoffice so beautifully, and persistently, and regularly run wrong as it now is. It takes years to attain such perfection.

CAPT. MURRAY, executive officer of the Philadelphia navy yard, was detached on the 20th inst., and ordered to report by October 1st to the Secretary of the Treasury for duty as Inspector of Light Houses of the Eleventh Light House District, (Loke Michigan). Captain Pierce Crosby reported to Commodore Marchand on the 20th, to relieve Captain Murray.

THE China mail steamship America, which arrived at San Francisco on the 12th instant, met the steamer China, having Governor Seward and party on board, at a point 1,000 miles distant from San Francisco. The two steamers exchanged papers, and Governor Seward sent a letter to a friend, saying that he was well and in good spirits.

THE commissioner of mining statistics gives the product of precious metals in the United States last year at $63,500,000 distributed thus: California, $20,000,000; Nevada, $14,000,000; Oregon and Washington territory, $4,000,000; Idaho, $7,000,000; Montana, $12,000,000; Colorado and Wyoming, $4,000,000; New Mexico, $500,000; Arizona, $1,000,000; other sources, $1,000,000.

THE Napoleon Northwest says: "It is believed that Mr. Wall, the Treasurer of Hancock county, Ohio, has been murdered. The rumor that he is a defaulter seems to have grown solely out of the fact that he did not return to his home. He was at Columbus, paid a large sum into the State Treasury, and has not been seen or heard of since. It is believed that he was murdered in the city."

"MAY I sing, Ma?" asked a smart four year old who had been taken to church by her mother, and whose bump of music was, doubtless, excited by the performance to which she was listening. Ma, whose eye was upon the pannier in the next pew, of course said "yes," as all indulgent mothers do; and the little hopeful, with a strong voice, commenced "Up in a balloon." "Hush! Hush!" said Ma, "don't sing that!" Pausing a moment, the young vocalist struck up "Not for Joe," and was immediately hustled out of the sanctuary.

THE Kansas City Bulletin says: "A brutal murder was committed last Saturday on Stonewall Creek, in the Cherokee lands. The victim was named Fletcher, and was bringing a herd of 300 Texas cattle to Kansas City, having eight men engaged in driving the herd. On Saturday morning the herders, by a preconcerted movement, set upon Fletcher and killed him, afterwards hiding the body to prevent detection. The whole of their proceedings were watched by a negro, who gave information to the United States Marshal. The whole party were arrested and are awaiting trial in the Tishomingo jail."

THE metallurgic works at Essen, near Dusseldorf, in Rhenish Prussia, are unrivalled throughout the world. They cover nearly two hundred acres, give employment to 12,000 workmen, are served by three lines of rails and a circular railroad, and consume every day more than one hundred trains of coal of twenty-five wagons each. One article alone is made—cast steel. The machinery is of course in proportion. The steam hammer works out blocks of metal weighing over seventeen thousand pounds. The steel is used in making locomotive springs, bearings and pistons, wheel-tires, but chiefly for artillery. The Krupp Mills can turn out day by day five batteries of eight pieces, field guns and one siege piece. Krupp exhibited a monster gun in the Exposition of 1867, which would throw a 3500 pound shot. People would not in those days believe in what they say. But they believe now that very gun is in position at the Bay of Jalide.

THE CENSUS develops for New York a population of 907,979. These figures are much lower than we expected, but the New York Standard explains that "the city in a commercial and social sense is not expressed therein. Mahattan island by reason of the great demand upon its limited and coast-environed space is rapidly being abandoned to the millionaires and paupers. The great middle-class—the bourgeoisie, as the French would say—those who live on incomes between three and ten thousand a year, have gradually been driven into New Jersey, Westchester, Long Island and Staten Island. Enormous rents, high taxation, the uncertainties and scandals of some branches of our city government have led to this result.

"To ascertain the true population of New York—we mean those who do business here, and spend most of their time on our soil—we should draw a line from the City Hall for the distance of twenty-five or thirty miles. This circle would probably embrace a population of two millions—a population which really represents New York, the metropolis of the Republic."

THE great clock on the Cathedral of Strasburg has been written about and wondered over until it is familiar to every seven year old that lisps his A B C's. We know of but one building so famous as Strasburg Cathedral, and but one article so familiar to the people as the famous clock. The Organ Brewery, with its cream ale, if not quite so wonderful to look upon, is certainly much more useful to the world at large.

THE REGISTRATION OF VOTERS in this county will close Saturday night. Let no voter neglect to attend to having himself properly registered, else he will experience much difficulty in proving his right to suffrage.

WE direct the especial attention of our readers to the very able and patriotic address of colored citizens to their Republican brethren. It is well worded, neat and dignified and clearly shows where our colored friends stand in this important campaign.

THE DEMOCRACY have thus far failed to hold a single public meeting. They dare not openly avow that they have not made one step forward during the past decade of years, but remain in the same old ruts and refuse to move forward with this progressive age.

IN a well prepared article on trade prospects the New York Times remarks that trades of all kinds seem to be brisk, if we may judge by the statements made by prominent firms in all branches of business. The demand for goods from the South and West continues to be sustained, and it is expected that the winter trade for 1870–71 will be unusually good, provided no outward complications of political and national affairs, tends, by affecting the price of gold, or otherwise, to produce a different result.

AFTER A DESPERATE and noble resistance Strasburg has been surrendered to the victorious German army. There was no disgrace attending the capitulation, for the defense was loyal and courageous, and not till the strong walls were battered down and the besieged people were reduced to extremities were the colors struck and the surrender made. The speedy fall of Metz may next be anticipated. General Ulrich has won for himself an enviable record as a brave, true and faithful soldier, worthy the confidence of the French people and the honor of the German foe, who compelled his capitulation by hard and incessant knocks.

AN EVENING PAPER yesterday, in a mysterious manner, asserted that Mr. Robb, candidate for the Assembly on the regular Republican ticket, "called upon Mr. Walton and offered to withdraw in the latter's favor, for a consideration."

In response to this we have received, from the gentleman referred to, the following card:

MESSRS. EDITORS: That statement I pronounce a base misconstruction of what did occur between Mr. Walton and myself. I denounce the entire statement as a willful, malicious and deliberate falsehood, as I shall demonstrate by a card in to-morrow's issue of the GAZETTE, in which I will give a full, positive and absolute denial of the statements made by Mr. Walton in his speech delivered on Tuesday night in the Fifth Ward, Allegheny.
JNO. S. ROBB.

WE NOTE with our heartiest commendation an effort now being made in the Eastern cities to effect an abandonment of the present style of doctors' prescriptions. It is proposed that plain English names be used instead of Latin for the designation of the various drugs found in the cases of the apothecary. Many of the fearful mistakes of such frequent occurrence in the compounding of medicine might be avoided if the Latin or pedantic system were abolished, and besides the sick man and his friends have a perfect right to know with what they are dosed. There is no necessity for calling red pepper capsicum or castor oil oleum ricinum, unless it be one of the rules of the medical profession to befog the uninitiated and make them wonder at the depth of knowledge required to write and compound a simple prescription.

HON. SIMON DRUM, of Allegheny city, was last year a candidate for the Republican nominations to the office of Mayor, a position which he well and ably filled for three terms, but was defeated a few votes by Hon. A. P. Callow, the present Mayor. We regret, exceedingly that he permitted himself to be used by the reform managers to supply a vacancy on their legislative ticket caused by the peremptory declination of R. C. Gray, Esq. We do not know that Mr. Drum has accepted the very doubtful honor, thus conferred, but it is entirely probable that his wishes were not consulted when such use was made of his name, and we are quite certain that his friends will be much surprised if he does not draw off and proclaim his loyalty and adherence to the Republican party, that has thrice willingly conferred high honors upon him. We believe Mr. Drum, like all good Republicans, is heartily in favor of party reform but who believe that it can best be brought about inside the party and never by an outside movement.

WHAT FAVRE REFUSED, Prussia has taken by force. Strasburg has fallen. In this victory, one more impediment to a future treaty of peace has been removed. Bismarck in all his interviews with Favre, has never failed to point out the fact that "provision against the next war" must be one of the articles of any peaceable adjustment of the difficulties. In his conditions to Favre he but repeated his demands made before the victory of Sedan. Strasburg has fallen, and Metz must soon follow. Without provision for his army, without food for his horses, with the terrible scourge of cholera carrying off his men and without the same military reasons he may have had prior to the surrender of Toul for refusing to surrender, Bazaine must soon capitulate. We look upon the fact as a foregone conclusion. With Sedan, Toul, Laon, Chatillon, Strasburg and Metz in possession of Prussia, that Government will have all it ever demanded as security against a future war. We believe that after the fall of Metz, peace between Prussia and France will be adjusted without the sacrifice of Paris.

AT THE MEETING of the Republican County Executive Committee, held Sept. 8th, 1870, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That this Committee, speaking on behalf of all the Republicans of Allegheny county, demands a positive pledge from each of the candidates nominated for office by the recent conventions, that he will endorse, abide by and sustain, in every particular, the letter and spirit of the resolutions set forth and adopted by the aforesaid conventions

The following REPUBLICAN candidates have responded, in writing, to the above resolution of the Executive Committee, asking for pledges to support the platform of the party and the resolutions passed in the late county conventions.

They all pledge themselves unreservedly to abide by those resolutions in LETTER and SPIRIT:

J. S. Negley,	G. H. Anderson,
Henry Warner,	John A. Scott,
M. S. Humphreys,	J. G. West,
Jas. Taylor,	J. S. Robb,
J. H. Kerr,	D. N. White.
Joseph Ross.

JOS. DILWORTH, Chairman,
H. M. Long, B. C. Christy, } Secretaries.

FROM the frantic appeals of Mr. Walton's friends for his election, in order that the coal interest may be cared for, one would think that there was no other interest in Allegheny county that needed the attention of our representatives, and that no one but the aforesaid Walton had the requisite ability to attend to such matters. The earnest attention of our numerous manufacturers is called to this aspect of the canvass now entered upon, and we beg of them to consider whether the election of a Congressman who is fully alive to the tariff issues, is not of vastly greater importance to them, and their material prosperity, than the success or defeat of any candidate for the Legislature can possibly be. The friends of the coal interest, too, should bear this in mind, for, upon the success of the manufactories of this county, they greatly depend for their measure of prosperity in the mining of coal. Then with this manifest fact before them is it not sheer madness for them to give assistance to a movement, which if it attain any success whatever, the defeat of a strong tariff candidate for Congress, and the election of Hopkins, an avowed Free Trader, must be the inevitable and sad result? A Free Trade representative of Allegheny county in Congress will be not only a novelty, but will prove rather an expensive one to our manufacturers in the end.

FREE TRADERS' MONEY.

The Democracy have become alarmed at the fact published by the GAZETTE and Dispatch that the Free Traders have sent twenty-five thousand dollars into this district to defeat Negley and elect Hopkins, a Free Trader. Who "blowed" on us? is the anxious inquiry at the Democratic headquarters. A. W Foster, Esq., their chairman, is greatly incensed over it, and wants to know who has the money.

Can Mr. Foster for one moment think Hopkins and the Free Traders would allow him to know anything about it? Men possessed of the shrewdness these Free Trade fellows are, don't trust a man who changes his politics daily, in a secret of this kind. Oh, no! Mr. Foster will do very well to write what they tell him to, but when it comes to handling the money, he is not wanted. It is here, A. W., that you can depend on, but whether you will find out who is disbursing it or not, depends entirely on yourself. What we know will be published at the proper time.

PROTECTION OR FREE TRADE?

That is the question. Every vote for Negley is a vote for Protection; for steady work to our mechanics; for prosperity to the hearths of workingmen.

Every vote for Hopkins is a vote for Free Trade; for the extinction of our furnace fires; for turning our mechanics out of employment; for reducing our laborers to beggary.

And every vote for Frew is half a vote for Hopkins; half a vote for a paralyzed industry and a pauperized community.

There are merchants here, and even manufacturers, who contemplate voting for Frew. Let them think twice over it. If they are content to permit this district to be represented by a Free Trader, why should the representatives of other districts, not interested like us, bother themselves about Protection. If our citizens cannot take care of their own interests, surely no one else can be expected to do it for them.

Manufacturers, look to this! Every vote for Frew is worse than a vote thrown away—it opens the door for Free Trade success. If the Free Traders of New York can afford to send their British gold here, to help to put Hopkins through, surely you can afford to look the situation in the face and act with as much judgment in political as in monetary affairs.

The issue is Negley or Hopkins—Protection or Free Trade; and the election of Hopkins will be accepted throughout the nation as your verdict that Protection is no longer necessary.

CAN WE AFFORD IT?

We commend to our readers the following from the Tribune of Tuesday, September 27:

"PENNSYLVANIA.

"The XXIId and XXIIId Districts of the Key-Stone State are composed of Allegheny and Butler counties, and include the City of Pittsburgh and its suburbs, whereof Allegheny City (across the river) bears the same relation to her that Brooklyn does to New York. In these two districts, there is a Republican majority of about Ten Thousand; whereupon, two Republican tickets have been nominated in each, and there is danger that this split will result in the election of at least ONE DEMOCRAT, who will vote to elect an ANTI-TARIFF SPEAKER, and thus to put the WHOLE POWER OF THE HOUSE into the hands of those who teach that PITTSBURGH has been built up at the expense of the consumers of iron throughout the country. If PITTSBURGH CAN STAND THIS, the rest of us will HAVE TO; but we can perceive no GOOD REASON WHY A REPUBLICAN SHOULD THROW AWAY HIS VOTE ON AN IRREGULAR CANDIDATE, AND THUS CONTRIBUTE TO THE ELECTION OF HOPKINS. IT SEEMS TO US THAT PITTSBURGH CAN'T AFFORD IT."

This is the language of a journal known to the Republicans all over the Union. It calls to mind the fact that our county ought to be the last to trifle in this election. The position is plainly and boldly taken. The danger is fairly represented. The election of Hopkins would be a vote for an Anti-Tariff Speaker, whose election would put the whole power of the House into the hands of Anti-Tariff men. Republicans, can we afford it?

Which of the two creeds do you propose to follow? The Tribune or the Commercial? The first is a disinterested adviser, the last a sheet striving for leadership. Shall James H. Hopkins, an Anti-Tariff Democrat, represent the Iron interests of this county? If we say he shall, we will have no right to murmur if every State in the Union endorses our choice and does the same thing. If Allegheny county is so utterly indifferent to protecting her own especial branches of industry, as to divide the party and throw away her riches, by voting for a man outside the possibility of an election, she must reap as she has sown. But can we afford it?

If we cannot, we urge on all good Republicans to heed the advice given. To cast aside the bombast that declares Frew can be elected, and to take the common-sense view of the subject. Frew has no chance whatever. At the last election there was a strong and well defined principle. This year there is none. See to it in time that a folly that in the present condition of affairs is almost criminal, coupled with an ambition for leadership and a vindictiveness purely personal that is criminal, does not lead you to throw away your vote on Frew and thus elect Hopkins. YOU CANNOT AFFORD IT.

SPECIAL LEGISLATION.

JURORS' FEES TOO LARGE.

We have at last an explanation from the Commercial on special legislation. Wherever and whenever it has heretofore made an effort by bad logic to prove any of the charges made against the Republican party, figures invariably prove these charges false. For months we have heard from it, about the "immense spoils" pocketed by "the ring." How the office-holders were all cheats and knaves, not an honorable nor an honest man among them, and how they were corruptly using the people's money. Unfortunately the Commercial was not contented with making charges. It felt that our demands for proof required something more. It knew that the speakers in the cause of reform were not making arguments but assertions.

Driven to the necessity of attempting to prove something, a few days since it appeared dressed out in a tabular statement, and demanding of the GAZETTE to explain how since 1865 our ordinary county expenditures had been increased eighty nine thousand dollars. It also declared in italics that the millage had been increased from ten to sixteen mills, and showed in its own opinion conclusively why it had been increased. A day or two after it discovered its blunder, and came out with a correction, showing that it had made a slight mistake, and that the County tax had not been increased at all.

Now the correction is all well enough, but what becomes of the argument given two days before as sound and conclusive reasons why it had been increased. We cannot exactly understand the dilemma of the Commercial. Either its arguments to satisfy the people that the cause of the increase arose from corruption, special legislation and extravagance was all nonsense or else the millage must be increased. But it is not, and we therefore suppose the argument was nonsense.

We are led into this view of the case from the fact that according to the Commercial the increase was eighty-nine thousand dollars. Mr. Lambert not choosing the public should be misinformed published a statement showing the increase to be eighty-three thousand. This was only a little difference of six thousand dollars, and the Commercial gravely informs the public that "the figures although arranged in a different form show precisely the same increase." Strange fact in figures we were not aware of that $89,000 and $83,000 are precisely the same increase. It is only a difference of six thousand dollars, over double the amount of increase for Coroner about which the Commercial makes so great an ado. We merely mention the fact as one of our reasons for supposing the Commercial to be a little "oblivious" in all its arguments.

But the table of Mr. Lambert was the death knell to the Commercial's campaign document. It knows this fact and undertakes to wrestle with it. It charges the increase on special legislation, and in proof thereof points to the fact, that the fees of Jurors have been increased. The Commercial, therefore, thinks that some one of "the ring" stole down quietly to Harrisburg and had the pay of the Jurors increased The Commercial objects to this, and the Third party ticket will see those fees are reduced. What utter balderdash to charge the increase of Jurors fees to corrupt special legislation. There is not a class of men in the Union more poorly paid. Not a man carrying on business for himself can leave his home, and come to this city, pay his board and stay two weeks without losing money. But it may be said the Commercial does not desire the fees reduced. Why then not strike off the $38,000 of increase for them. More than this, the Commercial in its issue of September 28th states "most of it (the increase) comes from increased fees to office holders, jurors and others, through special acts of Assembly, engineered by interested parties."

Thus little by little we are getting to understand what the Commercial means by "corrupt special legislation." The jurors of the county of Allegheny are a part of "the ring." It further deplores the immense increase of expenditures in conducting our Courts. Let us look at that for a moment:

1865.
Total Court costs	$34,121 49
Jurors' fees	11,437 42
Amount of expenditures exclusive of Jurors' fees	$22,684 07
1869.
Total Court costs	$72,609 35
Jurors' fees	49,485 18
Amount of expenditures exclusive of Jurors' fees	$23,155 17
Increase of expenditures in 1869 over 1865, exclusive of Jurors' fees	$431 10

We have used the Commercial's own figures, and while we do do not vouch for their correctness, yet our calculations from them as a basis shows that the people have actually been outraged by office holders in five years to the enormous sum of $400.

But we do not desire to follow these statements further. We have at last gotten the fact from the Commercial that the effort of the Third Party is to cut down jurors' fees. So be it.

CAMERON VINDICATED.

A short time after the death of Edwin M. Stanton, Hon. Henry Wilson published a sketch of that great man in the Atlantic Monthly, in which he, incidentally referred to the resignation of Secretary Cameron, and the appointment of Mr. Stanton through the advice of Mr. Cameron. Hon. Jeremiah Black answered this in the June number of the Galaxy, and denied with the dogmatism for which he is notorious, that Cameron did resign. He charged that he was removed. That he had no choice in the matter. And that he had nothing to do with naming Stanton as his successor. Mr. Wilson rejoins in the October number of the Atlantic, and disposes of Black's assertions in the following extracts, taken from his paper in that Magazine. He says:

In my article I incidentally referred to what I understood to be the fact, that Mr. Cameron had proposed to resign his commission as Secretary of War, provided a successor could be appointed not unfriendly to him, and that he had suggested Mr. Stanton. Mr. Black avers that this was not so, that Mr. Cameron did not resign, was in fact removed, and had no part in naming a successor. I am content to rest the case upon the following testimonies. Mr Cameron, in a recent note to me, writes:

"I called on Mr. Lincoln, and suggested Edwin M. Stanton as my successor. He hesitated; but after listening to me for a time, he yielded, and sent me to offer the place of Secretary of War to him, and added: "Tell him, Cameron, if he accepts, I will send his nomination as Secretary, and yours as Minister to Russia, to the Senate together."

Senator Chandler, in a recent note, writes: "Before Cameron resigned, he invited me to breakfast at his house to meet Edwin M. Stanton, whom I had then never met, and told me that the gentleman I was to meet had been nominated for Secretary of War, at his request. At the breakfast, the fact of Cameron's having recommended Mr. Stanton as his successor was not only mentioned, but the meeting was expressly for the purpose of enabling some one on whose friendship Mr. Cameron placed reliance to judge of the wisdom of his course, by actual contact with the coming Secretary."

This statement of Mr. Chandler, concerning the meeting at the house of Mr. Cameron, is corroborated by the following extract from a letter addressed to me by Mr. Wade: "I recollect," he says, "very well, that Mr. Cameron made known to Mr. Chandler and myself his determination to resign his position as Secretary of War, and recommend to Mr. Lincoln Mr. Stanton as his successor in that Department. From my long acquaintance with Mr. Stanton, and my confidence in his ability, integrity, and fitness for the place, as well as his determined anti-slavery principles, I was much pleased with the suggestion, as was Mr. Chandler. Shortly after this we were invited to breakfast at Mr. Cameron's, to meet Mr. Stanton, at which meeting Mr. Cameron mentioned to Mr. Stanton the resolution he had come to, and that gentleman reluctantly gave us to understand, that if he was offered the appointment, he would accept it."

From Senator Ramsey I have received a note in which he says: "I desire to relate a circumstance which carries with it the best attainable evidence of the truth of your statement—the words of Mr. Stanton himself. I met Senator Cameron and Mr. Stanton at Mr. Chandler's house in Washington, during the impeachment of President Johnston. In conversation, Mr. Stanton, in referring to the unpleasant and delicate situation in which he was placed, in seeming to cling to an office which the President was determined to drive him from, said, half playfully, pointing to General Cameron: This gentleman is the man who has brought all this trouble upon me, by recommending me to Mr. Lincoln for Secretary of War, and then urging me to accept the place."

Chief Justice Chase, in a letter written to Mr. Cameron, from which I am permitted to quote, is still more explicit and conclusive on the point at issue: "Senator Wilson is quite right in his statement that you resigned the post of Secretary of War, and that you indicated Mr. Stanton as your successor. I supposed myself at the time, and still suppose, that I was well informed as to the circumstances. Some time before you resigned, you expressed to me your preference for the position of Minister to St. Petersburg, and I conversed with Mr. Lincoln on the subject under your sanction. No intimation of a thought on Mr. Lincoln's part that the resignation of the one post, and the acceptance of the other, were not purely voluntary acts on your part was received by me. Nor have I now any belief that it was not at the time wholly at your option to remain in the Cabinet, or to leave it for the honorable and important position offered to you."

ADDRESS TO THE COLORED VOTERS OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY BY THEIR BROTHERS IN COUNCIL.

At a regular weekly meeting of Avery Council, U. L. of A.,—convened in the hall on Water street, city of Allegheny,—the subjoined paper was presented by the Chairman of the Committee on the State of the Union and unanimously adopted, as expressing not only the policy of the two hundred voters forming the Council, but also as an embodiment of the views of the colored voters throughout the county who had been previously consulted.

Pursuant to a resolution passed by this Council on the 18th of September, and in accordance with the expressed wish, emanating from Councils to individual colored voters of the county, your committee have prepared, and herewith present, the subjoined brief address to the colored voters of Allegheny county:

FELLOW COUNTRYMEN: As in the years of tribulation and anguish which shadowed, not only our own lives, but those of our ancestors, we sought the guidance of Him who, in the "unceasing progress of the world," watched over us, so in the present exigency, when the Great Party which emancipated, enfranchised and placed the ballot in our hands, is, to some extent, demoralized by the repugnant attitude of a few of its old standard bearers, let us, as of yore, ask God to give us right views of duty, and let us do it, though the "Heavens fall."

There is no crime in the whole catalogue of human infamy baser than that of ingratitude; and while we find benevolent and good men in the Democratic and Reform parties, let us honor them as such, and cultivate the kindliest feelings toward them; but when the sacredness of an eternal principle of justice, on the one hand, is arrayed against a doubtful element of expediency, on the other, we pray you to show your fealty and gratitude to the regular Republican party by voting the whole Republican ticket.

While we find on the regular ticket the names of two or three gentelmen who are unknown to most of us, and while it is also true that on the Reform ticket there are the names of two men who have gone through the ordeal of persecution and social ostracism to save from slavery and social degradation the race who are now invested with manhood suffrage, yet the triumph of the REGULAR REPUBLICAN PARTY in this county in the October elections is a matter of such absolute importance that it becomes our sacred duty to rally around their standard and postpone the payment of the debt of gratitude which we owe to those whose names we find upon the ticket of the Reform party.

While we desire that each colored voter shall exercise for himself the God-given right of private judgment, taking it for granted that no man of our race will so far stultify himself as to vote for the party whose principles, for many years, have been inimical to our rights, and while we recognize the fact, that in our midst there are many liberal, large hearted gentlemen of the dominant race, who belong to the Democratic party, yet we are resolved to vote for principles, not men, in the present struggle, and we consider, as we have before stated, it is our sacred duty to give a united, solid vote for the "whole Republican ticket."

May God grant us wisdom to so steer our course aright, that while striving to avoid needless antagonisms, we shall ever find that the path of duty is the path of safety.

ALLEGHENY CITY, Sept 28, 1870.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE: I have waited patiently for several days to see what the GAZETTE had to say to the Commercial on its charge that one of our most respected citizens, Hon. George R. Riddle, went to Harrisburg two years ago for the special purpose of getting through that body the Indexing bill merely. Mr. Eb. Williams was to get a fat contract. Permit me, Mr. Editor, to say, when the editor of the Commercial tries to blacken the character of George R. Riddle, he has undertaken a task he will never see performed. Mr. Riddle is known by every man in Allegheny county to be an honest, upright, straight-forward man. A man, who is known to be just the opposite of what this slanderous sheet tries to make him. Why Mr. Riddle should be assailed by the Commercial we don't understand. He was a delegate to the Reform Convention, and one of those honest men that paper said had assembled to reform county politics. Probably it was because he was like many more of us Allegheny citizens, who had hoped some good would come of that convention, but when we found it was being run by a few whose principles had always been against reform, in the Church as well as in politics, he immediately dropped them. Is that the reason why?
SECOND WARD.

BULL RUN RUSSELL OUTDONE.

[FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

VERSAILLES, Sept. 20th, 1870.

With wonderful precision and rapidity of movement have the German armies gathered around the beligerent metropolis of France. Four Uhlans, with a Kugelspritzen, were previously sent ahead from Sedan and so terrified the enemy that no serious opposition was encountered to prevent the rapid movement and concentration of the Prussians, Badeners, Goodeners, Brandenburgers and otherburgers, around this now besieged city. On the day after the affair at Sedan Von Moltke took me aside and said, "Now for Paris," and sure enough, in less time than my pen writes it, each man of the army was served with a rope of sausage on which was strung three loaves of "Schwartz brod" and a ration of a gross or so of most villainous looking yellow cigars, and with the trumpets sounding the advance the army started off for Paris. As the Crown Prince passed me at the head of his corps, taking the road that leads from Rappee to Melse, he handed me his canteen filled with what I supposed to be "schnapps," but which proved to be commissary whiskey, I could not help thinking of his soldierly qualities in thus forgetting Royalty and taking up with the fare of the common soldier.

Fritz and I had been good friends from the beginning of the campaign and I remember how before Metz he borrowed a number 15 paper collar of me, (his linen having been blown up in a caisson in which it was carried) and which he kindly promised to have washed and returned to me. It was a "linen finish" collar, but it will not wash. I only state this incident to illustrate our intimacy.

My letter from Sedan may have miscarried, so I will now be able to give you a better account of that affair.

Sedan is a fortified city, because it has fortifications around it. It is situated on a level plain and the ground is generally level except when broken by hills.

On the morning of the 9th the greater number of the corps having come up, it was evident that something was to be done.

I was wrapped in my poncho next to Von Moltke, with whom, as the night was cold, I slept "spoon fashion," when one of the King's aides-de camp touched me on the shoulder and I aroused myself. He announced that King William was in the saddle and about starting for the field. I called to my servant for my horse, and after hastily filling my holsters with what spare sausage and cigars were lying around loose, and not forgetting a bottle of wine (which turned out to be horse liniment) I started for the King, whom I found swearing at his servant for getting his boots mixed during the night. We proceeded along the flanks of a column of Hussars with their slashed jakets, who made way for us as "der Koenig" with his grim face was recognized, and cheer after cheer went up as we passed along, now at the head of a regiment and then again on the flanks. At last we came to the reserve of the army and from there we could see the lines of battle extending around and to the right in the distance.

Led by the King our party ascended a high, rocky hill overlooking Sedan, and being well assured of its safety we there took up our position.

The German army extended as far as the eye could reach in the form of a dense elipse or horse shoe, around Sedan. It was now about nine o'clock and the artillery had commenced on both sides; the heavy booming of the cannon interpersed with the snarling growl of the mitrailleuse. A careful review of the position was now made. A black mass to the left stretching out on either side in long lines revealed the movement of the enemy attempting to escape by the northern road. Gen. Hockboonen's corps was advanced with one of its divisions thrown forward "en echelon," the remainder being massed in heavy columns on the centre. Column after column pressed forward, the sturdy fellows joyfully chanting their song, "Was ist der Rhein Wein;" only stopping to cheer the King who was chewing his sausage and writing to Mrs. Augusta William a detailed account of the proceedings. On, On, they passed, their helmeted heads and burnished arms reflecting back with glistening sheen the slant rays of the morning sun. Before them was thrown out a cloud of "Jagers," sprinkling the landscape and forming a line of skirmishers, thus feeling, as it were, the yet mysterious evening.

At this minute I looked at my watch; it was 9:30. As I raised my eyes there burst from a ravine a regiment of Cuirassiers, their glistening cuirasses looking like a sea of glass and painful to the eyes. They advanced at a trot but soon took a hand gallop and with a yell of fury swept down on the flank of the Prussian skirmishers. They rode onward and the strawberry roan mare of their Colonel could be plainly distinguished. A burst, a roar, a cloud of smoke and the plain was mottled by the different colored horses of the prostrate regiment. Not one returned and Balaklava was thus outdone. Onward swept the Prussian skirmisher when from the earth there seemed to rise a dense black mass and a hundred thousand chassepots, and other pots, vomited their deadly missiles, which fell harmlessly three miles distant. They had over-shot their mark. At this minute—9:33 A. M.—I looked at the King, He shook his head and said, "Mein Gott, tunder unt blitzen," at which Bismarck, who had just come up, made a memorandum and called for Kirschenwasser.

The masses now unfolded; the artillery, which had been massed, poured a concentric fire on the French lines, and two horse batteries quietly limbered up and delivered their fire in the teeth of the enemy, who changed their position, thus throwing their line more to the eastward and exposing their flank, which had been covered by the vacant Chateau la Gerbier Slune. At this the French tried to reform and fall back to a new position, but Chateau la Gerbier Slune was the key of the position. It was now high noon, and still these sturdy Limburgers poured past, each man holding with tenacious grip his share of the requisition of cabbages from the last village. They were Dunderbinken's Corps, and with heavy, plodding, earnest step, with the everlasting brass spread eagle (looking like a split spring chicken ready for the grid-iron) covering their helmet-front, they surged along. All day long roared the battle, the Prussian line closing in and the batteries drawing near and making a perfect feu d'enfer, the enemy's guns feebly replying. All at once the French lines break and clouds of dust and the slackening of the fire announce their retreat on Sedan.

At this, Bismarck (who had kept remarkably quiet) said, "Alsace and Lorraine," and winked at me. Closer and closer drew the Prussian lines until at last the German batteries were established on the glacis of the French works.

It was now rather late and the King was hungry and sleepy. At this minute the whole army began to cheer, which passed from regiment to regiment with wonderful contagion, and we saw a French General on the ramparts waving a white flag, which afterwards turned out to be a duster on a pole as a sign of surrender. This duster was subsequently offered to me as a memento, but as it looked like any other duster, I declined it.

At this point Dr. Bull Run Russell came up from the village, about ten miles off, to write an eye-witness description of the battle. I remarked to him the absurdity of doing so at that distance, when he said he could compose more and was more composed when out of the sound of the guns.

Bull is a good fellow, and he and Bismarck seem to be pretty intimate.

The firing slackened from a tornado to a shower, from a shower to a few pattering shots, and then all was still and the sulphurous canopy lifted. Presently an officer rode up with the information of a flag of truce coming from the enemy, and that they had surrendered! At least Sedan has fallen. A note from the Emperor was received, brought by a French General, which the King read to us, as follows: "As I cannot die at the head of my army, I place my sword at Your Majesty's feet." [Signed.] NAPOLEON. The King said, in German, (which Bismarck translated for me) "All right; let him come out of the tall grass and I will treat." So the Emperor came out and they met at a little chateau outside of Sedan. The Emperor was dressed, had all his good clothes on and his moustache carefully waxed. The interview was affecting. Napoleon advanced and extended his hand and said, "Mon frere," then repeated what he had said in his note. The King, drawing himself to his full height, and an inch or two more, spoke, "Tousand tuyvil dunder wedder tawiglos lager mit ice brutzellen amercase in der Hohenlohe!" The Emperor said no more, but turning to me said, "That is rough in the old man." I said "Yes, sire," but I did not know till afterwards what the King did say. Now I know that the Emperor is to be sent to Hohenlohe to recuperate and tame eagles, and write the history of Scipio Africanus. Promptly there drove up a calache, into which the Emperor entered, and with his suite and escort, with their oil cloth cloaks over their uniforms—for it was raining hard—they drove rapidly toward the Belgian frontier.

[Owing to the length of this dispatch the ground wires broke, and we are unable to give the rest of our correspondent's letter.]

IN the town of Potsdam the principal Protestant clergyman aroused a furious excitement among the people by declaring that the war was the judgment of God upon Germany for her sins. A petition is in circulation praying King William to enlist this modern Jeremiah, that he may get his proper share of the judgment.

HALF ALIVE.

It is a sad thing to pass through life only half alive. Yet there are thousands whose habitual condition is one of languor and debility. They complain of no specific disease, they suffer no positive pain, but they have no relish for anything which affords mental or sensuous pleasure to their more robust and energetic fellow beings.

In nine cases out of ten this state of lassitude and torpor arises from a morbid stomach. Indigestion destroys the energy of both mind and body. When the waste of nature is not supplied by a due and regular assimilation of the food, every organ is starved, every function interrupted.

Now, what does common sense suggest under these circumstances of depression. The system needs rousing and strengthening; not merely for an hour or two, to sink afterward into a more pitiable condition than ever, (as it assuredly would do if an ordinary alcoholic stimulant were resorted to), but radically and permanently.

How is this desirable object to be accomplished? The answer to this question, founded on the unvarying experience of a quarter of a century, is easily given. Infuse new vigor into the digestive organs by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Do not waste time in administering temporary remedies, but wake the system up by recuperating the fountain-head of physical strength and energy, the great organ upon which all the other organs depend for their nurture and support.

By the time that a dozen doses of the great vegetable tonic and invigorant have been taken, the feeble frame of the dyspeptic will begin to feel its benign influence. Appetite will be created, and with appetite the capacity to digest what it craves. Persevere until the cure is complete—until healthful blood, fit to be the material of flesh and muscle, bone and nerve, and brain, flows through the channels of circulation, instead of the watery pabulum with which they have heretofore been imperfectly nourished.

Keep Your Houses Clean,
AND SAVE FUEL,
BY USING THE
Wellman Patent Reflector Grate.
WHICH STANDS WITHOUT A RIVAL.

We claim for it the following advantages over any other in use:
1st. As a radiator of heat it has double the intensity.
2d. It is unquestionably the most cleanly—very little soot or ashes escaping into the room—which, in the ordinary Grate, proves so detrimental to carpets and furniture.
3d. The combustion is perfect. There is no waste in unburnt cinders—every ounce of the fuel is so completely consumed, that nothing remains but the finest ashes.
4th. As an economizer of fuel—there being an actual saving of at least 25 per cent.
5th. It is highly ornamental.
6th. It is not so deep in the chimney, that it is much safer, and also less liable to [illegible] weather.
7th. A slight motion of the damper cleanses the entire fire, and causes it to burn with great brilliancy and intensity of heat.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

MONEY AND COMMERCE.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette, Wednesday, September 28, 1870.

There is rather more activity in money to-day. The large banks are holding off until after the first of the coming month, which causes more demand outside for present use. We think borrowers are mistaken, however, who expect an easier market than we now have. The fact is that for long time paper, four to six months, there is but little difference between this market and New York or Philadelphia; indeed bank rates are, for the most part, lower here than in Philadelphia, and for the same class of paper not one per cent. higher than in New York. "Easy money" in the east is upon the daily "call loans" made generally upon Government bonds as security.

The local stock market is inactive. Bank stocks are rather more in demand, but the transactions are light. Sales of Exchange at 71, Allegheny National at 68, and bids for Citizens at 68¾, and Third National at 125 are reported.

The New York market seems to be falling back into midsummer dullness. Gold is a fraction stronger, but the transactions are not large, and the bearish feeling is strong.

Governments move up and down with gold on very light sales.

Stocks have fluctuated but little for two days past. The conflicting interests are about evenly balanced, and both sides are waiting developments of the European struggle before making any final move on the financial chess-board. The dividend on Rock Island, and the announcement of a further issue of stock to the present stockholders at par, created some excitement and a brief rise in the stock, half of which is lost in the decline to-day.

The shorts in North West common have been having a rough time for two or three days. The stock is scarce and they have been forced to borrow at ⅛ per cent. per day, to avoid buying and causing a rapid advance. The quotations meanwhile are almost unchanged. St. Paul seems to be very sluggish. The extraordinary earnings have so far almost no effect at all upon the market value of the shares.

Closing quotations as received by James T. Brady & Co.:

By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, September 28, 1870.

The money market is easy and abundant at 4@5 per cent., closing with more demand at 5 per cent. Sterling heavy and lower at 9⅛ per cent. from second hands, while 9⅛@9⅜ per cent is asked for prime bankers. The high borrowing rates for cash gold have induced some bankers to draw freely. Gold more active and higher in consequence of the Treasury selling only gold at 113 25-100@113 56-100; price opened at 113⅞, advanced to 114⅛@114⅜, the closing rate. Loans were made at 1-64@⅛ per cent., and flat later after the withdrawal from the Treasury of $1,000,000 purchased.

Gross clearances were $3,700,000.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette, Wednesday, September 28, 1870.

The Wheat crop of the United Kingdom this year is stated to be an average one, but as most of the coarse crops, as Hay, Spring Grain, Roots, &c., are said to be light, she is likely to be a liberal purchaser during the present year, especially as the crops of France and Germany are light, and those countries are drawing a considerable percentage of their foreign supplies through British sources. In the early part of the season it was confidently expected that the severe drouth in England and on the continent would so limit the crops that Breadstuffs must necessarily rule high, but subsequent events have dissipated these expectations. Should the European war continue, it is possible that better prices may prevail, but this is a contingency upon which the trade, already sorely disappointed over the course of the market, are not disposed to operate.

The cable telegram from London, on Monday, stating that the wheat crop of England is estimated at six millions bushels below the yield of last year, will perhaps add a little strength to the breadstuffs market, but the general impression seems to be that any material or permanent advance, is out of the question.

APPLES—Continue to arrive freely, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, the market is dull though prices are unchanged, ranging from $2@3 per bbl for fair to choice. One house reports having received five car loads within the past two or three days, and there is a scarcely a produce house but what is receiving more or less, and they nearly all report the apple market dull.

ASHES—Common soda ash, 4; refined, 4½; Pearls, 9½; Pots 7½.

BEESWAX—Sales at 35 to 38 cents.

BUTTER—Prime to choice roll is in fair demand, and sells readily at 28@30 cts., while common and inferior is dull and hard to sell as there is no demand for it unless sold at the price of lard, 16@17 cts.

BEANS—Sales of new crop at $1.75@2 per bushel.

BROOM CORN—Is dull but unchanged; small sales at 6@7 cts.

COAL—Sales of Anthracite at $9.00@[illegible] per ton by the car load, delivered.

CRANBERRIES—Sales of Buckeye Bell Berries at $16, and eastern cultivated at $18@20 per bbl.

CARBON OIL—Is quiet and unchanged—29@[illegible] cts in a jobbing way, for standard brands in new barrels.

CHEESE—Is in good supply and lower, with sales of Ohio at 15@16 cts., the outside figure for Goshen.

CEMENT—Sales Louisville Hydraulic at $2.00, and Calcined Plaster at $2½ per bbl.

CIDER—[illegible] prime sweet [illegible].

CORNMEAL—Is being sold in small lots, from store, at [illegible] per bushel.

DRIED FRUIT—Small sales of new Peaches (halves) at 9@10 cts.

EGGS—Continue scarce with considerable inquiry, and we are reported sales at 21@22 cents.

FRUITS—The season for peaches and plums is about over. Grapes are coming slowly, and we continue to quote at 6@10, as to quality and condition.

FLOUR—Is quiet but steady, with a continued fair local demand, and while there is no change, prices are fully sustained. We continue to quote [illegible].

GRAIN—The grain trade is devoid of anything particularly new or important, and though the receipts of wheat continue light, the supply appears to be fully up to the demand, and [illegible] 1 car good red at 1.20. Oats quiet and unchanged—receipts continue light and the demand is fully up to the supply; we continue to quote at 43@45, buying, and 46@50 selling. Rye is steady and with continued meagre arrivals, market is rather firmer, though it is but proper to remark that the demand as yet is by no means active; we can report some few sales at 85@87. Ear corn is still quoted at 90, on track, and 93@95 in small lots. Shelled corn is nominal at 83@85 for mixed to prime yellow. Barley is dull and under the influence of the advices from the west, prices are lower; dealers report that it is difficult to sell neighborhood barley unless it is good and there is very little of this kind offering, and in the present condition of the market it is difficult to give quotations. In addition to this brewers have been holding back for cooler weather, and until there is a change it is not likely that they will take hold very freely.

GROCERIES—The grocery market is active and steadily improving, as orders continue to come in from the country freely, and so far as we can learn all the grocery houses are busy. Sugars are firm, though unchanged. Syrups are more active and firmer, and well established brands are reported higher. Coffee is firm, especially for choice Rio. Following are the ruling quotations:

COFFEE—Ordinary Rio, 19c; fair to good, 20@21c; prime, 22c; choice, 22½c; strictly choice, 23c.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

Office of the Pittsburgh Gazette, Wednesday, September 28, 1870.

The most noticeable feature in the oil market to-day was a complete reaction as compared with yesterday, the demand having dropped off considerably, and prices of both crude and refined have declined. The shipments of refined eastward continue large but notwithstanding this there is no great accumulation of stock at the sea-board, which indicates that exporters are taken hold pretty freely, and it is this that makes holders stiff, and as a general thing they are not disposed to make concessions in order to effect sales.

CRUDE.

Market as already intimated, weaker, and prices, off from ⅛ to ¼ a cent, as compared with yesterday. Sales of 3,000 bbls October, at 10; 3,000 November, at 9¾; this was sold early in the day; 2,000 seller October, at 9⅞; 1,000 do, at 9¾; 1,000 September, at 10⅛; 1,000 do, at 10⅛; 1,200 October, at 9⅞; and 200 at same figure.

REFINED.

Sales of two lots of 500 each, September, at 25; October 1st half quoted at 25—last half 25¼; November 24½@25, and December 24¼. Market dull, weak and drooping.

RIVER NEWS.

The river remains unchanged at this point with seventeen inches in the channel. Considerable rain fell yesterday, the first we have had for several weeks, and the indications last evening were favorable for more.

The little Trader, recently in the Pittsburgh and Wheeling trade, has been chartered, it is said, by the Brownsville Mail Company to run in that trade during the low water season. She may do for freight, but her passenger accommodations are very small.

The Messenger will depart for New Orleans as soon as there is water. She has been thoroughly overhauled and nicely repainted and looks like a new boat.

The Glendale is also in excellent condition for business.

—The new port of entry law, which is to take effect October 1, requires railroad companies who accept contract to carry bonded goods to provide iron cars of peculiar construction, with locks inside and out, possession of the keys to be retained by a Government official. The whole expense falls on the transportation company. The St. Louis Dispatch advises steamboat agents to get themselves posted in the requirements of this law before they get their fingers burned by some oversight.

—The Vicksburg Herald says the S. C. Day was sunk by the swells of the City of Alton, also that one life was lost. Captain Dverden, who has arrived at Memphis, had barely time to get his family on the roof before the boat went down. The hull parted from the cabin and capsized; afterwards the cabin lodged on a sand bar nearly opposite Point Comfort. The cabin furniture and 40 plows were all that was saved.

—The Cincinnati Commercial says: Dumont will have the Juniata's larboard cylinder repaired by to-morrow, when she will resume her trips to Louisville in the Mail Line, providing the water is not too low. Capt Chris L. Brennan has arrived from Pittsburgh and is superintending her repairs.

—Jno. Elwell, formerly a well known steamboatman, lost his wife in St. Louis, on Friday. She was the daughter of Capt. Adkins, of Upper Alton, and 22 years old. Mr. Elwell recently lost two children, and the demise of his wife buries the last link of a once happy family.

—Suit brought against the Belle Lee at Vicksburg by Kennett & Belle, for money advanced to her former owners, has recently been decided in favor of the boat. The plaintiffs are ordered to look to the parties to whom they made the advance for the money.

—Jerry Cunningham, of Cairo, late steward of the Mohawk, well known in river circles for the last twenty years, died, Saturday, after a brief illness, at the Marine Hospital, Memphis.

—Mr. James R. Mulkey writes the Memphis Avalanche, from Helena, that he is not dead yet, as reported. Wm. H. Mulkey, assistant engineer on the S. C. Day, is dead.

—The Calumet carried 227 bales of cotton out of Yazoo last week. The Sunflower had a cargo of 125 bales.

—Capt. N. Scoville, late of the Texarcana, purchased the Fleta at N. O. Friday, for the Red river trade.

—The yellow fever scare at New Orleans, still affects Southern shipments at St. Louis.

—The Natchez arrived at New Orleans Friday with 1,400 bales cotton.

—Des Arc is offered for sale at Memphis.

HOME NEWS.

Dr. Gilmore, the Chairman of the Committee on Speakers, can be seen at the office of the Executive Committee every afternoon at half past two o'clock. When at any other time the Doctor may be absent, Mr. C. B. Seeley, the Secretary, has agreed to attend to the duties of the Committee, at his office, directly opposite, 87 Fifth avenue.

Notice.

Our readers of the First and parts of the Second wards, Allegheny, will be served with their papers hereafter by Mr. Hawkins, a very worthy and energetic man. Mr. H. will use his utmost endeavors to get his subscribers their papers early and more regular than they have heretofore been given. Parties wishing the GAZETTE, can have it left by leaving their orders at this office, or at his residence, No. 2 Robinson street. We hope our friends will assist Mr. H. in extending his already large list of subscribers.

Thirty Days.—The irrepressible Carrie Hughes was arrested yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct and committed to jail for thirty days.

Henry McKinney, a boy, was knocked down in Allegheny yesterday by four youths, who subsequently paid a bill of costs in an assault and battery case before Alderman Mullen.

A large delegation will visit McKeesport next Saturday night to attend the Republican meeting. Mr. Guffey, of the Arlington Hotel, has made ample arrangements to accommodate all who visit the borough.

Assault and Battery.—A. D. Bradford made information before Justice Heisel, charging John Lent with assault and battery, alleging that the accused beat and abused his son. Lent was arrested and held for a hearing.

Frame Houses at Auction.—See advertisement announcing the sale of two houses, 30 and 32 James street, Allegheny, to-morrow at three o'clock, containing six rooms each. Five years given. A. LEGGATE, Auctioneer.

Broad-sword Exercise.—John Kuhlman made information before Justice Heisel yesterday, charging John Kunkle with assault and battery, alleging that the accused struck him with a sword. A warrant was issued.

It is disorderly conduct to kick a dog. For this offence John Zinglebeitz was taken before Alderman Mullen yesterday, upon complaint of James Rets. He succeeded in clearing himself by paying the costs of the prosecution.

A warrant was issued yesterday by Alderman Mullen, for the arrest of Samuel Maleman, charged with obtaining boarding from Sam. Orober, to the amount of $21 45, by falsely representing he had $15 due him from his employer.

The Picnic for the benefit of the Grace Church Sunday School, Mount Washington, will be held this day (Thursday) at Orr's grove. Supper and festival in the basement of the church in the evening. By order of the committee.

We are pleased to note that Captain Massey is about to form a battalion to be called the Avery Guards. A meeting for that purpose will be held on Friday evening next, at their Armory on Fourth avenue. A full attendance of the young men is requested.

Disorderly.—Two young men, John Hamilton and Wm. Kotterly visited Rauerline's Hotel, Millvale Borough, on Tuesday night, and created an excitement by their profanity and hostile demonstrations. They were finally ejected. Deputy Mayor Nichols was called upon to settle the case yesterday, and in pursuance thereof issued warrants for the accused.

Keeping Lent Awake.—Long Emery was arrested yesterday on a charge of malicious mischief, his offense being that of keeping Lent awake. John Lent made the information, and he alleges that the accused threw stones at his house Monday night and disturbed his sleep. Justice Heisel, before whom the information was made, issued a warrant for the arrest of the accused.

Finance Committee, Seventh Ward, Pittsburgh.

WILLIAM FLOYD—Chairman.
John Lowry, Edward Mathews,
Robert Snodgrass, George Wilson,
Peter Sprier, George Atkinson.

The above Committee will meet at Charles Jerome's, corner of Logan and Wylie streets, on Thursday evening at 7½ o'clock.

Nineteenth Ward.—Pursuant to the call of the Chairman of the Vigilance Committee of the Nineteenth ward there was a meeting on Wednesday evening, at 7½ o'clock. Alderman Moses Phillips was elected President Chairman, William Johnson Vice President, and L. C. Custer Secretary. The Vigilance Committee was subdivided so as to canvass the more thoroughly and bring out a full vote. On motion adjourned to meet Friday evening at 7½ o'clock.

Third Ward, Allegheny, Schools.—One of the most flourishing night schools in either city is that of the Third ward, Allegheny. Although the session has hardly been fairly inaugurated, the attendance has increased far beyond all precedent or anticipations. Two hundred and eighty-four pupils are now enrolled, and last night this number was largely increased. The School is in charge of P. W. Caldwell, who is very efficiently assisted by Miss Mary Oglesby and a full corps of teachers.

Held for Trial.—John Ranker, the man who used the knife so freely in a saloon in the Eighth ward a few evenings since, was before the Mayor for a hearing yesterday on two informations charging him with felonious assault and battery. John Seeberger and Andrew Hendell, two of the men whom he cut, being the prosecutors. The Mayor, after hearing the testimony, held the accused to bail for his appearance at Court in both cases, and in default of bail committed him to jail.

Yesterday Harrison Berger made information before Deputy Mayor Nichols against Jacob Wessner, for cruelty to animals. The accused had thrown a lot of sheep tied tightly together into a wagon and drove through the streets with them to his slaughter house in Lawrenceville. The legs of the animals were much swollen by their ill-treatment, and most of the sheep were within an ace of death from suffering before their destination had been reached. The accused gave bail for a hearing.

Ayer's Latin School.—The first monthly examination of the students in this school will take place to-morrow (Friday), commencing at nine o'clock A. M. Classes will be examined in Reading, Spelling, Penmanship, Geography, Grammar, Arithmetic, Algebra, Latin, Greek, French, German, and the rank of each student in his studies during the month will be read.

Hon. Thos. M. Howe, Solomon Schoyer, Esq., and Mr. Robert A. Clarke are the Examining Committee.

Parents and friends of the school are respectfully invited to attend.

Obstructing the Cars.—Car conductors on the Citizens Passenger Railway are having some trouble just now with obstinate and ill-tempered managers of other teams, who get on the track in front of, and seem to have an intense satisfaction in obstructing the cars. One of the chaps has at last aroused the ire of the conductors, and yesterday two informations were lodged against him, by his victims, before Deputy Mayor Nichols. The fellow presides over a "stone" wagon, but we were prevented from handing his name down to posterity, because that cannot be ascertained until he is arrested by the magistrate. The police are looking for, and will secure him to-day.

Important Sales of Business and Residence Property in the city of Allegheny. The real estate of the late John W. Simpson is to be sold by order of Orphan's Court on the 4th and 6th days of October next. It consists of vacant building sites on Ridge street, a fine residence on Lincoln avenue; two business houses on Ohio and Beaver streets; and a business house on Federal street. The building sites are publicly esteemed to be of the most desirable character; the Lincoln avenue dwelling is first class in every particular, and the business houses are unexcelled in their respective localities. See descriptive advertisement on fourth page, by A. Leggate, Auctioneer.

Sanguinary Encounter.—Ernest Sault, a young man from Lawrenceville, lost an eye on Sunday evening in this way. He was pedestrianizing along Butler street, when he stopped to tie his shoe string. Just then Joseph Grunnock, intoxicated, it is said, put in an appearance and commenced hostilities by kicking him in the eye, knocking it out, and knocking its owner down. It is further stated that Grunnock followed up this sanguinary attack by beating his victim ferociously, and injuring him so badly that he was compelled to stay in bed for several days. Yesterday he found his way to Alderman McMaster's office and caused a warrant to be issued for the arrest of his assailant.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 28, 1870.

EDITORS GAZETTE: In to-day's issue of the Post, it is charged that the Republicans have gone back on the "man and a brother," and have refused to patronize the Colored Fair at Lafayette Hall. In addition to being untrue, this is a choice piece of demagogueism. The fact is that General Negley and his party patronized the Fair very liberally, and I may add unselfishly, as the colored vote was already a unit for the regular ticket. The Post exhibited its liberality!! by deprecating the Fair, and by refusing to publish, even as an advertisement, the vote of Gen. Negley for the silver cup, for which the Congressional candidates are competing. This is liberality with a vengeance, but it is about as much as could be expected from a concern suffering from a periodical attack of the "dry rot."

"SUNNYSIDE."

Fine French and English Papers are a pleasant luxury, in which most people who can afford it indulge. Dainty monograms, patrician crests or fantastic initials are a fashionable necessity in these times, and few people when they entertain their dear five hundred friends, or notify the world of their marriage, do not prefer to do so in an elegant manner. And as in Paris Worth is the fashion in dress making, so in New York Brewster is the fashion in carriage making, so among stationers there is one pre-eminent, and when we open [illegible] ... friends who may be still unfamiliar with it.

HON. ROBERT C. GRIER.

Formal Meeting of the Judges of the Courts and Members of the Bar Relative to his Death—Resolutions.

The death of the Hon. Robert C. Grier, one of the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States having been announced in the several courts, a formal meeting of the Judges and Members of the Bar was called, and at nine o'clock yesterday was held in the District Court room.

The meeting was organized by calling Hon. M. Hampton to the Chair; Hon. John M. Kirkpatrick, James P. Sterrett, E. H. Stowe and F. H. Collier were elected as Vice Presidents, and A. M. Brown and M. W. Acheson, Esqs., were appointed as Secretaries.

R. Woods, Esq., moved that a committee be appointed to prepare resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting.

The motion was adopted, and the Chair appointed Messrs. Thomas MacConnell, James Veech, Robert Woods, Thos. M. Marshall, Thos. Lazear, John Mellon, W. D. Moore, J. S. Craft and S. A. Purviance said committee.

Mr. MacConnell, chairman of the committee, reported the following resolutions, which were read by James Veech, Esq.:

Another luminary of our profession has set. The thorough scholar, the genial friend, the most able and upright Judge, and the sincere, unostentatious Christian, Robert Cooper Grier, has gone to appear at the Court of the Most High. It now becomes us, the Judges and Attorneys of the Courts of Allegheny county, some of whom witnessed the early light of his long judicial career here begun, and have seen it in its meridian splendor, and all of whom have watched with saddened pride its unclouded, full-orbed setting, to pause for an hour at what his death makes a memorial point in our personal and forensic history, to contemplate his character and put upon our records our tribute of praise of his intellectual greatness and exalted virtues. We are proud of him as being in all his physical and mental growth and culture a Pennsylvanian—sturdy, vigorous, upright and pure; attractive in his social intercourse, exemplary in his deportment in private and in public, with none of the hauteur, but with all of the requisite dignity of his position. Possessing, as few men ever did possess, an intuitive perception of the right, an earnest detestation of wrong, with a positive enthusiasm for justice, giving to chicanery and fraud, and the luxury of litigation neither countenance nor quarter, we can safely hold him up as a model Judge, a peer among the greatest and best that have ever adorned the judicial annals of our State and nation. Others may have been greater and some as good, but none have surpassed him in that rare combination of goodness and greatness—of purity in the administration of law and equity, and power to make them subservient to truth and justice, which has indelibly ingrained his entire life, professional and judicial. In all this, and in all the kindred traits of his character, his family, his friends, the profession, the State, the nation, and all who minister in the temples of justice everywhere, and who look to them to give order and beauty, healthiness and strength to the social fabric, may well be proud that Judge Grier has lived, and that his works do follow him. But we of this bar and these courts, sitting on and around the bench which he founded, and upon which for years he dispensed justice, through forms and principles, which he allowed to aid, but never to better him in their application—we may at least boast that here he fully developed his exceeding fitness for that high judicial station to which he attained. He brought with him the massive materials with which he here laid the foundations of the column of his fame and usefulness, and which is now beheld and admired wherever the English law is studied and administered. But he is gone. We turn sadly from the towering column to the lowly mausoleum, from the bench to the bier. While his remains are being made ready for the grave, we can but assert our privilege to unite with our brethren all over the land in weaving a garland for his tomb. And those of us who knew him in social life, and who have taken the law in kindness from his lips, ask to be allowed to bedew that garland with a tear. Let us, therefore,

Resolve, 1. That Judge Grier, during his life, by his great learning, talents and integrity, was a bright ornament to the bar and the bench of the country, and in his whole career impressed upon our jurisprudence his strong, clear and pure ideas of law and equity.

2. That while we mourn our bereavement in his departure to the rewards of the just, let it be the fixed purpose of ourselves and of our brethren everywhere to cherish his memory, to study his expositions of the law, and to imitate, as far as imitation can go, the illustrious example he has given—that goodness and greatness are not merely compatible, but are contributory to the structure of the only character which can be enduringly admired and loved.

3. That in his death our country has lost one of its best citizens and soundest jurists, our profession one of its ablest members, and the Bar of Pittsburgh one of its best friends.

4. That we tender our heartfelt condolence to his surviving family and relatives, and ask to be allowed to share with them and his friends everywhere in the common grief which his death has sent throughout all the land.

5. That the proceedings of this meeting be entered at large upon the minutes of our several Courts, published in the newspapers of this city, and a copy thereof, signed by the officers of this meeting, sent to the family of the deceased.

Pending the adoption of the resolution, remarks eulogizing the character of the deceased were made by C. B. M. Smith, Esq., Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., Wm. Bakewell, Esq., and others, after which the resolutions were unanimously adopted, and the meeting adjourned.

A Pleasant Excursion Party.

On Tuesday afternoon an excursion party of some fifty couples, married and single, left the Connellsville Railroad Depot for a grand, select evening party previously arranged to take place at the ever popular Brinewell House at Guffey's station, twenty-four miles from the city. The managers having charge of the arrangements left nothing undone to secure the enjoyment of their guests, and had provided a special train devoted exclusively to the party, no other travelers being received. The efficient Master of Transportation of the road, Mr. D. D. Angell, with commendable consideration for the ladies and gentlemen comprising the excursion party, made up the special train with great good care, and placed two elegant and luxurious coaches at their command. Conductor E. B. Butler, one of the most genial and courteous of railroad officials, a gentleman who has as many friends as a gum tree has leaves in summer time, was placed in charge of the party, and had as his first lieutenant our clever friend, Mr. J. W. Reynolds, brakeman, and with such careful officers no fear was expressed as the train dashed along the twenty-four mile stretch, on a smooth and safe track, to Guffey's station in less than forty minutes time. Arriving at the destination the guests found a magnificent supper gotten up in Mrs. Johnston's best style, and we know of no better hostess than this accommodating lady who has charge now of the Brinewell House. After all had been sufficiently refreshed with the toothsome substantials the broad and commodious drawing-rooms were sought and the merry dance inaugurated. Troege's celebrated parlor band was in attendance with the accomplished Professor Brady as figure caller. The dance went on with spirit until midnight, when a splendid supper was spread. The large dining room was appropriately adorned for the occasion, and the tables were fairly loaded down with the delicacies and tempting substantials of the season. Indeed, we have never set down to a better meal, and the universal verdict was that the Brinewell House merited the great popularity which it enjoys as a favorite place of resort. After supper an interesting presentation was made. The guests, appreciative of Conductor Butler's courtesy and attention, made him a present of an elegant silver mounted and handsomely engraved ticket punch, gotten up in Dunseath's best style of art. Happy speeches were made and although Mr. Butler is a modest man, we must say that few railroad officials enjoy such universal appreciation on the part of their friends and patrons. The dance was renewed and early in the morning, after partaking of a hearty breakfast, the guests took their special train and homeward came, all heartily pleased with the excursion. The managers deserve much credit for the liberal and admirable manner in which they managed the very agreeable occasion. Any of our friends desiring a pleasant trip should not forget that the Brinewell House is one of the very best resorts in the State, and sets the best tables besides.

The New Trinity Church.

"They rear old Trinity once more:
And, • • • • • •
The glory of this latter house
Thrice glorious shall be!"

The good people of Pittsburgh will be surprised some fine autumnal morning to discover a group of church buildings of exceeding beauty which have seemingly sprung up and grown with the verdure of the trees in the beautiful church yard of Trinity Parish on Sixth avenue. The leaves will fall and unveil one of the finest specimens of Gothic stone work in the country. Genuine English Gothic too—pure as if designed by architects of the 14th century.

"'Tis—what it shows abroad—
A mountain piled in shapely blocks,
And made the House of God."

The extreme length of masonry is over two hundred feet. The gables of nave and transepts will be seventy-five feet high. The tower and spire, of beautifully wrought stone, will reach an altitude of more than two hundred feet. With the next fall of the leaf may be heard through the stone tracery of its lofty belfry, the music of a full chime of bells, which will not only ring out a merry call to worship the Almighty in his holy temple, but hourly and quarter hourly mark the passing time.

The form of the Church is that of the emblem of the Christian faith. Within, a lofty nave, supported on clustered columns of stone with high arches, the apsidal chancel with its altar, fonts, pulpit and stalls of skillful workmanship, windows resplendent with richly painted panes. Without, strongly marked lines of massive buttresses, deep traceried windows, richly carved gables, string courses and bosses. These all, from porch to altar, from corner stone to spire cross, make an edifice delightful to look upon.

"Dear cross! hold fast thy height in air:
Stand ever wide, blest door!
And ever crowd, ye faithful there,
High, lowly, rich and poor!
Sweet bells! ring ever your glad sound,
And let its message be
Ho! ye that thirst, here Christ is found,
And here His house is free."

Family Record.

We are indebted to the agent, Mr. Amos Stevens, 89 Fifth avenue, for a copy of the beautiful "Photographic Family Record," published for subscribers by Reynolds & Sherrard, Chicago. The design provides for a tasteful arrangement of photographic likenesses of all the members of a family, the heads of the house in a central position, crowned with wreaths of laurel and fruitful vines. Encircling these, are places for the sons and daughters, embellished by twigs and tendrils of exquisite floral beauty. The tout ensemble of the whole is chaste and ornate, making a desirable and appropriate ornament to hang upon the wall of a parlor, sitting room, or library. The engraving is executed in the highest style of the art, is [illegible] inches in size. The object of this Record, and the rare beauty of its design, will cause it to be sought for by thousands. Nothing could be more suited as a present from parent to child, or child to parent. Every son and daughter, every son-in-law and daughter-in-law, should have one of these records, as well for his or her own family, as for their immediate ancestors. The Record would be cheap at five dollars, but is furnished at $2.25, so that those in the humblest circumstances may possess one or more of these family charms.

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE.

Fell Dead at Home—Coroner's Inquest and Verdict.

John Windlin fell dead at his residence, No. 718 Penn street, yesterday morning at half-past six o'clock. He had been complaining of ill-health on Monday, but nothing was thought of it, as he had been subject to occasional indisposition at intervals for several months past. When he arose yesterday morning he appeared as well as usual, but soon after, while preparing to go to work, he suddenly fell to the floor and expired. Windlin was a Frenchman, about fifty-five years of age, and leaves a wife but no children. He was held in high esteem in the community, and was of sober, industrious habits.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest upon the body, when a verdict of death from heart disease was rendered.

The Squirrel Hunters.

WEST NEWTON, PA., Sept. 28, 1870.

A few days ago some of our citizens, perhaps a dozen in number, arranged to have an "old-fashioned squirrel hunt," which came off yesterday. The party was equally divided as to numbers, one part being under the leadership of Dr. J. H. Ritchie, and the other chose Mr. P. J. Robland as their leader. The affair passed off very harmoniously; and they succeeded in bagging about sixty squirrels, besides some other small game, but judging from the fatigued appearance of the party when they returned, we are of the opinion that the sport was not commensurate to the amount of vitality expended.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

WEDNESDAY, September 28.—The first case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. George Brown, indicted for assault and battery, Owen McMahon prosecutor. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and directed that the prisoner pay one-half the costs and the defendant the other half.

Commonwealth vs. Lewis Hufnagle, indicted for assault and battery, Henry Henhauser prosecutor. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Hendricks, indicted fos larceny, Thomas McLaughlin prosecutor. The parties reside at Six Mile Ferry, and the prosecutor alleges that the defendant came into his house and took $40 from his pockets while he (the prosecutor) was asleep. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

INVOLUNTARY MANSLAUGHTER.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. John Roth, indicted for involuntary manslaughter, for causing the death of Mrs. Eva D Cornelius, of Birmingham.

HISTORY OF THE CASE.

The deceased, Mrs. Cornelius, was about thirty-five years of age, the wife of John Cornelius, and the mother of five children. Roth, the defendant, is a man forty-five or fifty years of age, and it appears was off and on employed by Mr. Cornelius in the capacity of a laborer. On the fourth of August last, the day on which Mrs. Cornelius was killed, or died, Roth was sent to the city by Cornelius, with instructions to collect a bill of twenty-five dollars. He collected the money, and about half past three o'clock returned to Birmingham very drunk, and gave him, Cornelius, twenty-two dollars, having spent three dollars of the money collected. Mr. C. was offended and ordered Roth to leave his house and not come about any more. He left and went out on the street and did not return again until between six and seven o'clock in the evening, when he made his appearance in front of the house, still very drunk and followed by a crowd of boys, who were annoying him by pulling at his coat tail. Cornelius' house has a basement kitchen, and Roth, in order to avoid the boys, started to go down into the kitchen by a pair of steps leading from the sidewalk. Mrs. Cornelius, who was sitting in the front door nursing a child eleven months old, having heard her husband order Roth not to come about the house any more, gave her babe to an older daughter, and started to the kitchen by the stairway in the inside of the house, and met Roth at the kitchen door. In order to get him to go away she caught hold of his coat and was speaking to him, trying to persuade him to leave when he turned around and gave her a push, causing her to fall on the steps, from the effects of which she died in about ten minutes.

It appeared from the testimony that the deceased had been sick for some time and was very much exhausted and that the shock sustained by the fall caused her death. Jury out.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Jane McDermot, indicted for selling liquor without license, three cases. Not guilty on first indictment, county to pay costs. On the other two indictments guilty. Sentence suspended on payment of costs.

No More Smoke.

There is perhaps no city in the United States, either large or small, where the comfort and convenience of the citizens are so much interfered with by smoke as in the "Smoky City." Smoke in Pittsburgh is a nuisance, and it has been frequently remarked that the man who could devise means whereby the nuisance might be abated would confer a lasting benefit on suffering humanity, and make himself immortal, not to say anything of the untold wealth he might accumulate. The means, it would seem, have been devised, and their practability fully demonstrated.

Connelly & McLure's patent process for utilizing the gasses from coke ovens, smoke stacks, blast furnaces, glass works, &c., it would seem, will accomplish the desired end, at least so say many practical and scientific men.

The apparatus was tested yesterday at Armstrong's coke ovens, in the Twelfth ward, in presence of over a hundred business men and manufacturers, and the result was eminently satisfactory. We do not propose to enter into a detailed description of the process of utilizing the smoke or gases, at present, but will merely refer to the results of the experiment. The apparatus was attached to one of the coke ovens and a connection formed by means of gas pipe to a cooking stove, which was heated in a remarkably short space of time, and a lady baked bread in it. An attachment was then made to a grate in Mr. Armstrong's office, in which were placed a few fire brick and an iron plate and the gas ignited, and in a few minutes the plate and brick were red hot. The gas cannot only be used for heating purposes but for luminating purposes also. Four large burners were attached and they gave a clearer and brighter light than is given by the city gas. The gas generated and utilized from the one oven was at the rate of two thousand feet per hour. It was fully estimated by scientific men that by this process the smoke and gases wasted in the city are sufficient to both light and heat it, which if so would be an annual saving of overone million dollars annually. The apparatus will be on exhibition for several days at Mr. Armstrong's coke ovens, and we would advise our manufacturers and business men to call and see it opperate.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The audience at the Opera House last evening was a large and appreciative one, and the entertainment, as usual, a very excellent one. This evening Mr. Barrett will appear in a new drama entitled "Pluck," which he played in the eastern cities with a great degree of success.

GRAND CONCERT.—This evening, at Masonic Hall, will take place the grand complimentary concert tendered Mr. J. J. Benitz, Director of St. Paul's Cathedral choir, on the occasion of his departure for Europe to finish his musical education. The programme embraces the names of many of our most accomplished amateurs, and the concert bids fair to be the grandest of the season. Mrs. Biederman, pianist, and Mrs. Benswanger, vocalist, both accomplished vocalists, will make their debut on the occasion, and the programme concludes with the grand Prussian war song, "The Guard on the Rhine," by a full chorus, comprising the entire Frohsinn Society. We hope there will be large attendance.

ACADEMY.—The usual number of attractions, with several additional ones, will be presented at the Academy of Music this evening, as will be seen by reference to the advertisement column.

VARIETIES.—Manager Aims continues to furnish his patrons with a rare, rich and racy entertainment, and offers several new attractions this week.

Religious.

The General Assembly of the Welsh C. M. Church commenced its annual session in this city yesterday, at the Church, on the corner of Second avenue and Cherry alley, delegates being present from different parts of the United States. After passing an hour in devotional exercises the Assembly was called to order at ten A. M., Rev. Robert Williams, of Ohio, Moderator pro tem. Upon concluding the presentation of credentials, etc., the Assembly proceeded to an election of officers for the ensuing year. The following persons were declared elected: Moderator, Rev. William Roberts, of Bellevue, Pa.; Recording and Corresponding Secretary, Rev. J. P. Morgan, of Vanwert, Ohio; Treasurer, Elder W. W. Vaugh, of Racine, Wisconsin. After an able address by the Moderator, the Assembly adjourned until two o'clock P. M.

The afternoon session was mainly occupied with routine business. The Assembly will resume its sessions this morning.

The Game To-Day.

This afternoon the "White Stockings" and "Atlantics" have their tilt at Union Park, unless the weather prevents. The game will commence about three o'clock. The "White Stockings" are on their way home after one of the most remarkable base ball tours on record. During their "swinging round" they encountered and defeated nearly every first-class club in the country, winning every game played. The excitement is high among our base ball players, as this is the first time the club has visited here. The "Atlantics" have selected as strong a nine as could be had in their club, and, while not looking for victory, expect to make a creditable score. Union Park will be a lively place while the game is in progress.

For the Sick.—Calve's Foot Jelly, Liebig's and Borden's Extract of Beef, Dundee Marmalade and Tamarinds, at 112 Federal street, Allegheny. 3

THIEVES AND BURGLARS.

The Mayor After Them—How They are Dealt With.

His Honor Mayor Brush has wisely determined to rid the city of a class of individuals who have been infesting it for some time past, and from their associations and manner of living are presumed to be thieves. Within a few months past burglaries, daring robberies and similar crimes have been of too frequent occurrence for the safety of the citizens, and there are a number of men lounging about the city without "visible means" of support who doubtless have some connection with the commission of the crime referred to. Many of them were never known to do a day's work in their lives, yet they manage to live fast, and are found at all hours of the day lounging around certain establishments which the police say are the rendezvous of thieves. In fact many of the persons referred to are known by the officers to be professional thieves, but under the act of Assembly providing for the arrest and punishment of that class of men, unless they are found upon a crowded thoroughfare, at a hotel or some public gathering they are secure from arrrst. There is however, another law more ancient than the one referred to—and in the case of these pests to community who live off the labor of honest men—much more effective. It is the law providing for the arrest and punishment of vagrants, which provides that all persons having no "visible means of support" may be arrested and taken before a magistrate who is empowered to commit them to jail or the Work House, in this county. There is also a city ordinance based upon this law, which further provides for the arrest of all suspicious persons, and if they are unable to give a satisfactory account of themselves the Mayor is authorized to impose a fine upon them and in default of payment commit them to prison.

The good work was begun yesterday and is to be prosecuted until every man known to be a thief or who is unable to give a satisfactory account of himself has left the city. We would advise all such persons if they have any objections whatever to serving a term in the county Work House, to pack their traps, and leave the city for the city's good, otherwise their liberty will be forfeited for the space of sixty days at least.

The first victims to this commendable resolution of His Honor were John Kirkpatrick and Frank Brawley, who were arrested yesterday and after a hearing, in default of payment of a fine of $50, they were committed to the work house for thirty days each.

James Gillan was arrested and taken before the Mayor and being unable to satisfy His Honor that he earned his bread by the sweat of his brow, or that he obtained it in any honest way, a fine of $50 was imposed upon him, which he paid. If he should be again arrested the fine may be increased to $100, which will make living in Pittsburgh rather an expensive luxury to him, as he is liable to arrest at any time if he remains here.

Two others were arrested on suspicion but were discharged.

Meeting of Vigilance Committees—First Precinct, Birmingham.

Pursuant to call the Vigilant Committee, First Precinct, Birmingham, met Tuesday evening to organize. They were called to order by Chas Evans in the chair. The following persons were elected to serve as officers of Committee: Chairman, Charles Evans; Treasurer, John Phillips; Secretary, N. P. Ramsey; Finance Committee, John Phillips, George Powell; Jas. McDonald, John Smith, John Eichley and Martin Shaffer.

At this point in the proceedings the Vigilance Committee from the Second Precinct was announced. The two Committees went into joint meeting to appoint time of holding preliminary meeting of citizens to suggest names for borough officers. A motion was made that next Tuesday evening be the time. An amendment was offered and accepted that Monday instead, and place be south end of Town Hall. A motion that a call be inserted in the South Side Ledger and Freiheits Freund for a meeting of citizens to be held in South Side Town Hall, Monday, 3d inst., at 7 P. M., for the purpose as above stated was made. On motion adjourned.

The "Excelsior" Glass Cutter.

A new substitute for the ordinary glazier's diamond has been shown to us by W. G. Dunseath, jeweler, 56 Fifth avenue, who has been appointed the agent for it in this county. It has been pronounced by some of our most prominent painters to excel the ordinary diamond, and it is said to cut easier and quicker, is more durable and costs less than one-fourth of the diamond itself. The test that we have seen it put to would convince any one of its superiority over any diamond in use. We would advise any of our readers needing anything of the kind to call and see for themselves and be convinced.

A French Account of Napoleon's Surrender.

Listen, for what I can now give you is a page of history. Napoleon III. having written to the King of Prussia the letter which you are acquainted with, William replied: "Let him come himself; otherwise he will be treated as a private soldier, although he scarcely deserves it." Napoleon then betook himself in the manner related to the farm at which the King had established his headquarters. The caleche having arrived at the door of the house, the ex-Emperor alighted, extinguished his cigarette, and entered alone into the low chamber where the King, in a general's uniform, with his helmet on was walking up and down in a feverish state, his hands crossed behind his back. The Prince and the great officers formed a group in one of the corners of the apartment. The ex-Emperor took off his hat and saluted the King, using the German language. William did not reply, either by word or gesture, but after a few more paces came and placed himself erect, stiff and terrible in front of Napoleon, who remained bareheaded, with his head slightly inclined. "Sire," he said, still in German, "I come to repeat to your Majesty viva voce what I had the honor of writing to you yesterday evening." "It is well, sir," replied the King, whose color was considerably heightened, whilst his voice had a whistling sound, owing to the efforts he made to restrain himself. "I have decided that Spandau shall be assigned to you for prison—I mean residence; you will there wait for my further orders." "Sire," said Napoleon—"I have spoken, sir," exclaimed the King, striking his sabre on the dusty floor of the room. "Aurevoir donc Monsieur, mon frere, said the Emperor, this time in French; he then saluted in the most courteous manner the different personages, and left the room as calm as if he had been presiding at an opening of the Chambers. When outside he took a cigarette and lighted it by the cigar of a cuirassier in white uniform, and was preparing to again get into his carriage when a general officer came from the King to beg him to pass into a neighboring court, where William, who wished to have a longer conversation would send for him. Napoleon said not a word, but escorted by two cuirassiers, passed into a court where there was a small wooden bench at the edge of a little piece of water. On this he quietly took his seat, continued to smoke, and only stopping at intervals to look at the pool and at the staff officer who, standing up, was watching his movements. After waiting a quarter of an hour, the ex-Emperor, in French, begged the officer to order him a glass of water. One of the cuirassiers brought it. He moistened his lips with it, and then looking at the contents of the glass, smiled and said to the officer: "Nero, when conquered, passed his last hour near a pond, from which he drank; I am more fortunate than he." Then, having swallowed all the water and given back the glass: "It is true," he added, "that my reign never resembled his." So saying, he resumed his smoking. After a good half hour, a general officer came from the Prussian monarch to beg him to enter a room where the King was alone. They remained together for nearly an hour and a half, speaking in a very low tone. At the end of the interview the Ex-Emperor got into a post-chaise with the Prussian arms on it, and took the route by Luxembourg to Cassel, where he will proceed to Spandau. This last is a fortress which protects Berlin on the northeast side; it contains a State prison of a very gloomy aspect. Those who form the suite of the King pretend that it is the intention of His Majesty to leave Napoleon there to the end of his days. A perpetual imprisonment, the King is reported to have said, would be only the just chastisement of so great an offender. An officer of the Prussian staff, who is going to Namur and Brussels on a special mission, affirms that without the intervention of the Prince Royal and that of Count de Bismarck, the King was determined to have the Emperor shot, so great was his exasperation against him for having caused the death of so many brave soldiers. The equipages, carriages, and the Imperial servants were seized on at Arlon by the Belgian authorities; the various persons belonging to him were liberated on parol, but with a recommendation to get rid of their liveries, which they very readily did. You can have no idea in Paris of the exasperation that prevails agains the Emperor and his friends amongst the French who throng in here from the field of battle.
